Democratic Leader in Senate Says Party Has No Plans for This Year

Reds Arrive

Officials Are Puzzled Over Early Arrival of Red Delegation

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—Although the United States is pressing for speedy signature of a peace treaty with Japan, there were strong signs today that this country will not ratify the pact until next year.

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader in the Senate, told a reporter his majority party forces have no plan now to bring the proposed treaty up for ratification before Congress adjourns, perhaps in October.

Meanwhile, some State Department officials were reported puzzled by the early arrival of Russia's delegation to the treaty signing conference.

A 32-member group of Soviet diplomats, led by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, reached New York yesterday aboard the Queen Elizabeth—eight days before the opening conference session in San Francisco Sept. 4.

American officials speculated that Moscow's delegates may spend their pre-conference time trying to round up support for Russia's expected opposition to the treaty draft sponsored by the U. S. and Great Britain.

Gromyko told reporters yesterday Russia's proposals will be disclosed at the San Francisco meeting. Scowling, he expressed hope any treaty would serve the best interests of those countries which have suffered most from Japan's wartime aggressions.

Snapping "no comment" to a flurry of questions, Gromyko strode off the ship.

Marine Leader Says Korean War Prepares Nation

Tells Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention U. S. Four Times as Strong as 14 Months Ago

New York, Aug 28 (AP)—The Korean war was a "blessing in disguise," says Marine Corps Comcause of its effect on U. S. national defense.

The human sacrifices in Korea, he adds, "contributed a considerable amount to the defense of America, because if we hadn't had Korea—God help us if we had started in a war."

Gen. Cates, addressing the 52nd national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said yesterday the United States is "four times as strong" now as when the Korean war started 14 months ago.

He declared the strength of the armed forces did not cause him as much concern as "weakness on the home front" caused by "some who are inclined to have a sense of fear."

The Marine Corps commander spoke at a business session of the VFW convention, bringing 75,000 veterans and their families to New York for the week-long gathering.

Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball was to be the main speaker at this morning's session.

Call for Oatis Action

Also on today's agenda was a vote on a resolution calling for President Truman to act in the case of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent imprisoned by Red Czechoslovakia on spy charges. Unanimous approval by the veterans has been predicted.

President Truman, himself a VFW member, sent a letter to the convention last night. It was read by Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, military aide to Mr. Truman, at a dinner here for VFW Commander Charles C. Ralls, of Seattle, Wash.

The President said the VFW has always been "in the vanguard" of action to ensure security and progress of this country. He voiced confidence that the organization would continue to serve in this way.

All Americans, Mr. Truman said, must have "a deep-seated sense of duty and responsibility to oppose all forces which would deprive us of our inherent freedom."

Minkoff Is Fined $50 on Charge He Fixed Prescription

Jail Sentence Suspended on Ailing Veteran for Health Law Violation

David Minkoff, 29, of 10 Inwood Place, Ellenville, was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today on a charge that he had altered a prescription.

Minkoff, who, a physician said, was a sick veteran, was arrested Aug. 8 by Officer Ernest Bartroff of the local police, and Sidney Joffe, investigator of the Narcotic Control Section, New York State Department of Health.

Information describing the charge said it was a public health law violation committed by the defendant "by wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly altering a prescription," to read, "one vial of demerol 30 cc." This, it said, was "a narcotic drug in place of the non-narcotic medication which Dr. Anthony Ruggerio, of Ellenville, had written for." The charge dates back to last May 11.

Hospitalized Long Time

Attorney Benjamin Lonstein, of Ellenville, represented Minkoff in court and said that the veteran had been suffering from an illness for which the narcotic drug had been previously prescribed, and this was later changed to a non-narcotic drug. The district attorney's office was represented by Attorney Sherwood Davis.

A physician said, following the arrest, that Minkoff had been hospitalized for some time at various places. Judge Mino said he imposed the suspended sentence on the promise that the violation would not be repeated.

Andrei Gromyko Back

Andrei Gromyko, Russia's deputy foreign minister, arrives in New York on board the Queen Elizabeth. The Russian diplomat will head the Soviet delegation at the San Francisco meetings to sign the Japanese peace treaty. (NEA Telephoto)

Ridgway Is Sticking to First Reply

General Says No Doubt That Aircraft Was Flown Over Parley by Communists

Tied to Fraud

Enemy Personnel Are Blamed for Being in on Scare Plan

Tokyo, Aug. 28 (AP)—The United Nations command charged today that the Communists sent one of their own planes through the motions of bombing Kaesong last Wednesday and then blamed the Allies for the attack.

The charge was contained in a bulletin released by the public information office at Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters as the UN commander studied a Communist note that could shatter hopes of truce in Korea.

"There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter," the public information office said.

The Reds offered to resume truce talks—which they broke off last Thursday—on certain conditions. Primarily, they want Ridgway to say a UN plane bombed the Kaesong neutral area Wednesday.

He has already said no UN plane was even in the area. He told the Communists they manufactured the incident.

Less than 24 hours after the Reds rejected this, Ridgway's public information office restated the same position in detail.

It said no UN planes were in the area at the time of the attack but that an unidentified plane was. It added:

Deliberate Fraud

"It is beyond doubt that this was a Communist aircraft. * * *

"All evidence established the clear conclusion that on the night of Aug. 22 the Communists perpetrated a deliberate fraud."

The release said there were no bomb craters, no bomb fragments, "no evidence on the ground of a United Nations command air attack."

"There is every indication," the release said, that Red truce "personnel at Kaesong were accessories to a deliberate fraud. Using their military control of the conference site as a cloak of deceit, Communist personnel perpetrated a sham of unprecedented proportions.

"Creating an elaborately staged and quite obviously premeditated scene, they sought to fix upon the United Nations command a false charge of air attacks on the conference site."

The Reds asked Ridgway to make a new investigation of their evidence of the asserted bombing. To this, the Public Information Office commented the Reds have had time to prepare "more convincing evidence of a bombing."

Clear Cut Frameup

Officials at general headquarters said it was virtually unthinkable that Ridgway would retract his charge that the entire incident was a frame-up.

Tells Supervisors Bridge Capacity Is Violated

Ulster Residents Receive $120,000 Old-Age Benefits

Monthly Old-Age and Survivors Insurance payments now being paid to beneficiaries in New York state under the new 1950 Social Security program have increased to $17,608,275, a 125% increase over the $7,825,900 paid before the amendments were enacted on August 28, 1950.

"This increase of benefit amounts is felt throughout the State of New York," O'Connor stated. "For instance it is found that approximately $120,000 is going to persons living in the County of Ulster, which is serviced by the field office, located at Kingston."

Joseph B. O'Connor, regional director of the Federal Security Agency, reported today in the first annual review of Social Security operations under the new legislation.

"There are two factors for this increase," O'Connor said. One is the automatic increase which was felt immediately after the amendments. Persons who were receiving the average old-age retirement payment of about $26 a year ago are now receiving about $48. Minimum payments of $10 have been doubled. The maximum old-age insurance payment a year ago, about $45, is now $68.50. Many families surviving an insured wage-earner now receive the top family payment of $150 monthly."

New Law Factor

"The other factor accounting for the higher amount of payments is the larger number of persons made eligible for insurance by the new law," he stated. For August 1950, payments in New York state were made to 354,843 persons. The new provisions have boosted the number of aged retired persons, wives, widows, children and dependent parents receiving payments to 500,776 for the month of August 1951.

George J. Johnson, manager, reports that most people are generaly aware of their status under the new legislation. "Apparently there is a little misunderstanding of the self-employed obligations under the new program," he said. "Old-age and survivors insurance is not optional for people who are working for themselves in their own trade or business, or as partners in such enterprises. If you are self-employed and derive as much as $400 in net profit from your business in 1951, your Social Security coverage is compulsory. You are invited to visit this office to learn your rights and obligations under the new law. Taxes for the self-employed are not due until March 15, 1952, but it is wise for the self-employed to be aware of their duties before that time."

Loughran Would Stop Use of Napanoch Span by Contractor for 30-Ton Loads

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran has recommended to the board of supervisors that injunction proceedings be brought against the S. A. Healey Company of 61 West Chester avenue, White Plains, contractor on the Lackawack water works project, to restrain the company from transporting excessive loads over the Napanoch bridge adjacent to the Napanoch Institution.

In a communication to the board of supervisors read Monday evening, Loughran charges that the bridge, known as county bridge No. 18, has been posted for a load capacity of 10 tons and that he has learned that loads up to 30 tons are being moved over the structure.

Loughran requested that the board bring injunction proceedings to enjoin the company from carrying these heavy loads over the bridge.

Committee Named

In accordance with the suggestion by the county superintendent of highways, Chairman Roy F. Denniston named a committee of three members of the board of supervisors to investigate the matter and report. On the committee is Chairman Denniston, Supervisors Kenneth Wilson of Woodstock and Lawrence Craft of Wawarsing.

Some time ago it was suggested that a warning light be placed on the bridge over the Esopus creek at the intersection of the Onteora trail and Washington avenue viaduct. This action was recommended following a number of accidents at that point where vehicles have struck the bridge structure. The State Traffic Commission, which has jurisdiction over such matters, was contacted. A communication was read last evening in reply to that communication in which the commission stated that a study of traffic conditions would be made as soon as possible.

To Help on Bridge

Letters were read from Congressman J. H. Wharton and Senator Irving Ives in which they stated they would do all in their power to assist in making materials available for the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge over the Hudson, or to render any other assistance possible to speed the project. U. S. Senator Herbert H. Lehman, who had also been given a copy of the board of supervisor resolution approving construction of

Three Youngsters Found After Six Hours in Woods

Three young boys who were lost in the woods off the Saugerties-Woodstock road since noon on Monday were found about 6 p. m. that evening by a three-man searching party.

Corporal Ray Dunn, state police officer from Phoenicia, was notified at 2:30 p. m. Monday by Mrs. Frances Bronitsky, proprietor of Shagbark children's camp on Route 212, that three youngsters left the camp at 11 a. m. for a hike in the woods and had not returned. The boys were Gerald Bronitsky, age seven and one-half; Steward Hanover and Robert Kinzelman, both nine years old.

Three Make Search

Cpl. Dunn enlisted the aid of Kenneth Wilson, supervisor of the town of Woodstock, and Walter Van Wagoner, head of the Woodstock school. The three men searched the woods until 6 p. m., when they located the boys in a field about two miles distant from the point where they entered the woods. The boys were accompanied by a dog.

The three boys were exhausted by their wanderings but were otherwise in good condition, Cpl. Dunn reported.

Residents had been concerned over the safety of the boys because of the existence of several old quarry holes in the thickly wooded section, Cpl. Dunn said.

Newkirk Avenue Man Hurt on Road

A man later identified as James Bradley, 47, of 62 Newkirk avenue, was critically injured when he was struck by an automobile on Route 9W near the Glenerie Lake road intersection about 9:30 p. m. Monday, state police reported.

Bradley was on the "critical list" at Kingston Hospital this noon.

Troopers said John Parslow of 131 West Bridge street, Saugerties, reported to them that he was driving his 1948 automobile on Route 9W when he noticed a man come from the shoulder of the road opposite the Glenerie Lake road. Parslow said he applied his brakes, and pulled to the left, but the pedestrian "made a lurch toward the car" and was struck, state police said.

Taken to Kingston Hospital by Conners ambulance, the man was found to have no identifying papers on his person. Identity was finally established, Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly of the B.C.I. said, with the aid of Kingston police after the severely injured man was heard to mumble the word, "Bradley."

Yonkers Pay Raise Plan Names Taxes for Money

Corporation Tax Boost Is Cut by Senate Finance

Rates Juggled to Make the Hike Lighter on Small Concerns With $25,000 or Less

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively voted to knock out about one-fourth of the corporation tax increase voted by the House.

Most of the excess profits tax boost was eliminated yesterday from the House-passed $7,200,000,000 tax hike bill. The senators kept the five per cent increase in corporation income taxes but juggled rates to make the hike lighter on small companies with incomes of $25,000 or less a year.

Even with this softer treatment, the higher corporation levy rates would yield an estimated $2,280,000,000 a year in additional revenue — $760,000,000 less than under the House bill.

The senators now have tentatively approved cuts of about $1,640,000,000 in the tax increases voted by the House.

If they cut excise taxes, the last remaining big section of the bill, as sharply as they have other levies they may well get their version of the tax hike down to about $5,000,000,000, or only half the amount sought by President Truman.

However, the committee today (9 a. m. EST) hopes to pick up perhaps as much as $100,000,000 of additional revenue in a field the House did not touch.

It will study possible taxes for co-operatives, mutual banks, savings and loan and insurance groups, and others, some of which now have certain exemption privileges.

The senators yesterday voted to make their corporation boosts expire Dec. 31. 1953, the same date they picked for termination of personal income tax increases.

Differ on Date

They did not agree on the effective date for the new corporation levies although some are said to favor a date later than January 1, 1951.

The Finance Committee rejected the House provisions reducing to 75 per cent from the present 85 the percentage of average base period net income to be used in computing the excess profits tax credit. The base period is the best three years in four from 1946 through 1949.

The House bill would require companies to pay an increase profits tax on everything above 75 per cent of earnings in the base period.

Employes Comply With Law in Seeking $500 a Year Boost in Salary

The City of Yonkers has a well defined plan for raising money to back a pay boost referendum bid, the Freeman learned through inquiry today.

This contrasts with the recent ruling by Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly who has ruled that the local police-firemen referendum bid lacks mention of a specific plan for raising money as required by recent amendment to the City Home Rule Law.

The referendum in Yonkers would seek a $500 pay boost for all city employes, and the corporation counsel there has ruled that the plan presented complies with the law.

Specific Plan Given

In Yonkers the proposed local law states that the amount of expenditures required for the raises will be $750,000 and that a plan to raise the said sum is as follows:

1. By general taxation on real estate so far as permissible within the constitutional or statutory limitations on the City's power to raise money by taxation on real estate:

2. If any additional moneys are required, by the imposition and collection of taxes other than taxes on real estate through the enactment by the Common Council of one or more local laws imposing one or more local laws imposing one or more of the following taxes:

a. 2 per cent retail sales tax
b. 2 per cent compensating use tax
c. 3 per cent consumer's utility tax
d. Motor vehicle use tax
e. 5 per cent admissions and dues tax on admissions to theatres, operas or other places of amusement.
f. general business tax.

Red Cross Speaker to Tell Of Aid Given During War

Leland H. Shaw, director of the Dutchess County Veterans Service Agency, Poughkeepsie, will be the speaker at the annual dinner-meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross in the First Dutch Reformed Church here Sept. 5, it was announced today.

The speaker will recount his experiences with the Red Cross while serving in the U. S. Army and during his hospitalization in army hospitals both in this country and abroad. The dinner is scheduled to start at 6:45 p. m.

Shaw attended Mercersburg Academy, received his AB degree at Dartmouth College and attended Fordham University Law School where he received his LLB degree. He was admitted to the state bar in 1938.

Reports of the chapter chairman, executive director, home service director, treasurer, committee and branch chairman will be compiled in a printed annual report for distribution at the meeting.

The chairman of the nominating committee will present 13 names for election or re-election to the board of directors.

The meeting is open to the public. Reservations must be received at the chapter office by Aug. 30.

Digging Resumed at Crossing Project, Traffic Is Rerouted

Workmen for the Lipsett Corp., contractor on the Broadway grade separation project today resumed full-scale digging on the west side of the crossing.

Broadway was closed off to traffic from Cornell street to the project area this morning and the new access streets were in use for detours. Thomas street was also closed off from the access street intersection to Broadway.

Local police headquarters was notified of the rerouting of traffic in this area and a patrolman was stationed at Broadway and Cornell street starting at 7 a. m.

First forms for the pouring of concrete on the eastern end of the underpass are being laid on the north side of the street, and the protective coat of red lead on the railroad bridge is being covered with a heavy gray paint.

It will be at least another week before the bridge is ready for relocation of the tracks along the former alignment, and following that, work is expected to start on the bridge that will connect Railroad and Greenkill avenues.

Sewer lines on Broadway are being placed as the digging progresses west of the crossing.

Ulster Residents Receive $120,000 Old-Age Benefits

Monthly Old-Age and Survivors Insurance payments now being paid to beneficiaries in New York state under the new 1950 Social Security program have increased to $17,608,275, a 125% increase over the $7,825,900 paid before the amendments were enacted on August 28, 1950.

Minkoff Is Fined $50 on Charge He Fixed Prescription

Jail Sentence Suspended on Ailing Veteran for Health Law Violation

David Minkoff, 29, of 10 Inwood Place, Ellenville, was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today on a charge that he had altered a prescription.

Minkoff, who, a physician said, was a sick veteran, was arrested Aug. 8 by Officer Ernest Bartroff of the local police, and Sidney Joffe, investigator of the Narcotic Control Section, New York State Department of Health.

Information describing the charge said it was a public health law violation committed by the defendant "by wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly altering a prescription," to read, "one vial of demerol 30 cc." This, it said, was "a narcotic drug in place of the non-narcotic medication which Dr. Anthony Ruggerio, of Ellenville, had written for." The charge dates back to last May 11.

Hospitalized Long Time

Attorney Benjamin Lonstein, of Ellenville, represented Minkoff in court and said that the veteran had been suffering from an illness for which the narcotic drug had been previously prescribed, and this was later changed to a non-narcotic drug. The district attorney's office was represented by Attorney Sherwood Davis.

A physician said, following the arrest, that Minkoff had been hospitalized for some time at various places. Judge Mino said he imposed the suspended sentence on the promise that the violation would not be repeated.

Newkirk Avenue Man Hurt on Road

A man later identified as James Bradley, 47, of 62 Newkirk avenue, was critically injured when he was struck by an automobile on Route 9W near the Glenerie Lake road intersection about 9:30 p. m. Monday, state police reported.

Bradley was on the "critical list" at Kingston Hospital this noon.

Troopers said John Parslow of 131 West Bridge street, Saugerties, reported to them that he was driving his 1948 automobile on Route 9W when he noticed a man come from the shoulder of the road opposite the Glenerie Lake road. Parslow said he applied his brakes, and pulled to the left, but the pedestrian "made a lurch toward the car" and was struck, state police said.

Taken to Kingston Hospital by Conners ambulance, the man was found to have no identifying papers on his person. Identity was finally established, Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly of the B.C.I. said, with the aid of Kingston police after the severely injured man was heard to mumble the word, "Bradley."

Yonkers Pay Raise Plan Names Taxes for Money

Rates Juggled to Make the Hike Lighter on Small Concerns With $25,000 or Less

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively voted to knock out about one-fourth of the corporation tax increase voted by the House.

Most of the excess profits tax boost was eliminated yesterday from the House-passed $7,200,000,000 tax hike bill. The senators kept the five per cent increase in corporation income taxes but juggled rates to make the hike lighter on small companies with incomes of $25,000 or less a year.

Even with this softer treatment, the higher corporation levy rates would yield an estimated $2,280,000,000 a year in additional revenue — $760,000,000 less than under the House bill.

The senators now have tentatively approved cuts of about $1,640,000,000 in the tax increases voted by the House.

If they cut excise taxes, the last remaining big section of the bill, as sharply as they have other levies they may well get their version of the tax hike down to about $5,000,000,000, or only half the amount sought by President Truman.

However, the committee today (9 a. m. EST) hopes to pick up perhaps as much as $100,000,000 of additional revenue in a field the House did not touch.

It will study possible taxes for co-operatives, mutual banks, savings and loan and insurance groups, and others, some of which now have certain exemption privileges.

The senators yesterday voted to make their corporation boosts expire Dec. 31. 1953, the same date they picked for termination of personal income tax increases.

Differ on Date

They did not agree on the effective date for the new corporation levies although some are said to favor a date later than January 1, 1951.

The Finance Committee rejected the House provisions reducing to 75 per cent from the present 85 the percentage of average base period net income to be used in computing the excess profits tax credit. The base period is the best three years in four from 1946 through 1949.

The House bill would require companies to pay an increase profits tax on everything above 75 per cent of earnings in the base period.

Employes Comply With Law in Seeking $500 a Year Boost in Salary

The City of Yonkers has a well defined plan for raising money to back a pay boost referendum bid, the Freeman learned through inquiry today.

This contrasts with the recent ruling by Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly who has ruled that the local police-firemen referendum bid lacks mention of a specific plan for raising money as required by recent amendment to the City Home Rule Law.

The referendum in Yonkers would seek a $500 pay boost for all city employes, and the corporation counsel there has ruled that the plan presented complies with the law.

Specific Plan Given

In Yonkers the proposed local law states that the amount of expenditures required for the raises will be $750,000 and that a plan to raise the said sum is as follows:

1. By general taxation on real estate so far as permissible within the constitutional or statutory limitations on the City's power to raise money by taxation on real estate:

2. If any additional moneys are required, by the imposition and collection of taxes other than taxes on real estate through the enactment by the Common Council of one or more local laws imposing one or more local laws imposing one or more of the following taxes:

a. 2 per cent retail sales tax
b. 2 per cent compensating use tax
c. 3 per cent consumer's utility tax
d. Motor vehicle use tax
e. 5 per cent admissions and dues tax on admissions to theatres, operas or other places of amusement.
f. general business tax.

Ridgway Is Sticking to First Reply

General Says No Doubt That Aircraft Was Flown Over Parley by Communists

Tied to Fraud

Enemy Personnel Are Blamed for Being in on Scare Plan

Tokyo, Aug. 28 (AP)—The United Nations command charged today that the Communists sent one of their own planes through the motions of bombing Kaesong last Wednesday and then blamed the Allies for the attack.

The charge was contained in a bulletin released by the public information office at Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters as the UN commander studied a Communist note that could shatter hopes of truce in Korea.

"There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter," the public information office said.

The Reds offered to resume truce talks—which they broke off last Thursday—on certain conditions. Primarily, they want Ridgway to say a UN plane bombed the Kaesong neutral area Wednesday.

He has already said no UN plane was even in the area. He told the Communists they manufactured the incident.

Less than 24 hours after the Reds rejected this, Ridgway's public information office restated the same position in detail.

It said no UN planes were in the area at the time of the attack but that an unidentified plane was. It added:

Deliberate Fraud

"It is beyond doubt that this was a Communist aircraft. * * *

"All evidence established the clear conclusion that on the night of Aug. 22 the Communists perpetrated a deliberate fraud."

The release said there were no bomb craters, no bomb fragments, "no evidence on the ground of a United Nations command air attack."

"There is every indication," the release said, that Red truce "personnel at Kaesong were accessories to a deliberate fraud. Using their military control of the conference site as a cloak of deceit, Communist personnel perpetrated a sham of unprecedented proportions.

"Creating an elaborately staged and quite obviously premeditated scene, they sought to fix upon the United Nations command a false charge of air attacks on the conference site."

The Reds asked Ridgway to make a new investigation of their evidence of the asserted bombing. To this, the Public Information Office commented the Reds have had time to prepare "more convincing evidence of a bombing."

Clear Cut Frameup

Officials at general headquarters said it was virtually unthinkable that Ridgway would retract his charge that the entire incident was a frame-up.

Red Cross Speaker to Tell Of Aid Given During War

Leland H. Shaw, director of the Dutchess County Veterans Service Agency, Poughkeepsie, will be the speaker at the annual dinner-meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross in the First Dutch Reformed Church here Sept. 5, it was announced today.

The speaker will recount his experiences with the Red Cross while serving in the U. S. Army and during his hospitalization in army hospitals both in this country and abroad. The dinner is scheduled to start at 6:45 p. m.

Shaw attended Mercersburg Academy, received his AB degree at Dartmouth College and attended Fordham University Law School where he received his LLB degree. He was admitted to the state bar in 1938.

Reports of the chapter chairman, executive director, home service director, treasurer, committee and branch chairman will be compiled in a printed annual report for distribution at the meeting.

The chairman of the nominating committee will present 13 names for election or re-election to the board of directors.

The meeting is open to the public. Reservations must be received at the chapter office by Aug. 30.

Digging Resumed at Crossing Project, Traffic Is Rerouted

Workmen for the Lipsett Corp., contractor on the Broadway grade separation project today resumed full-scale digging on the west side of the crossing.

Broadway was closed off to traffic from Cornell street to the project area this morning and the new access streets were in use for detours. Thomas street was also closed off from the access street intersection to Broadway.

Local police headquarters was notified of the rerouting of traffic in this area and a patrolman was stationed at Broadway and Cornell street starting at 7 a. m.

First forms for the pouring of concrete on the eastern end of the underpass are being laid on the north side of the street, and the protective coat of red lead on the railroad bridge is being covered with a heavy gray paint.

It will be at least another week before the bridge is ready for relocation of the tracks along the former alignment, and following that, work is expected to start on the bridge that will connect Railroad and Greenkill avenues.

Sewer lines on Broadway are being placed as the digging progresses west of the crossing.

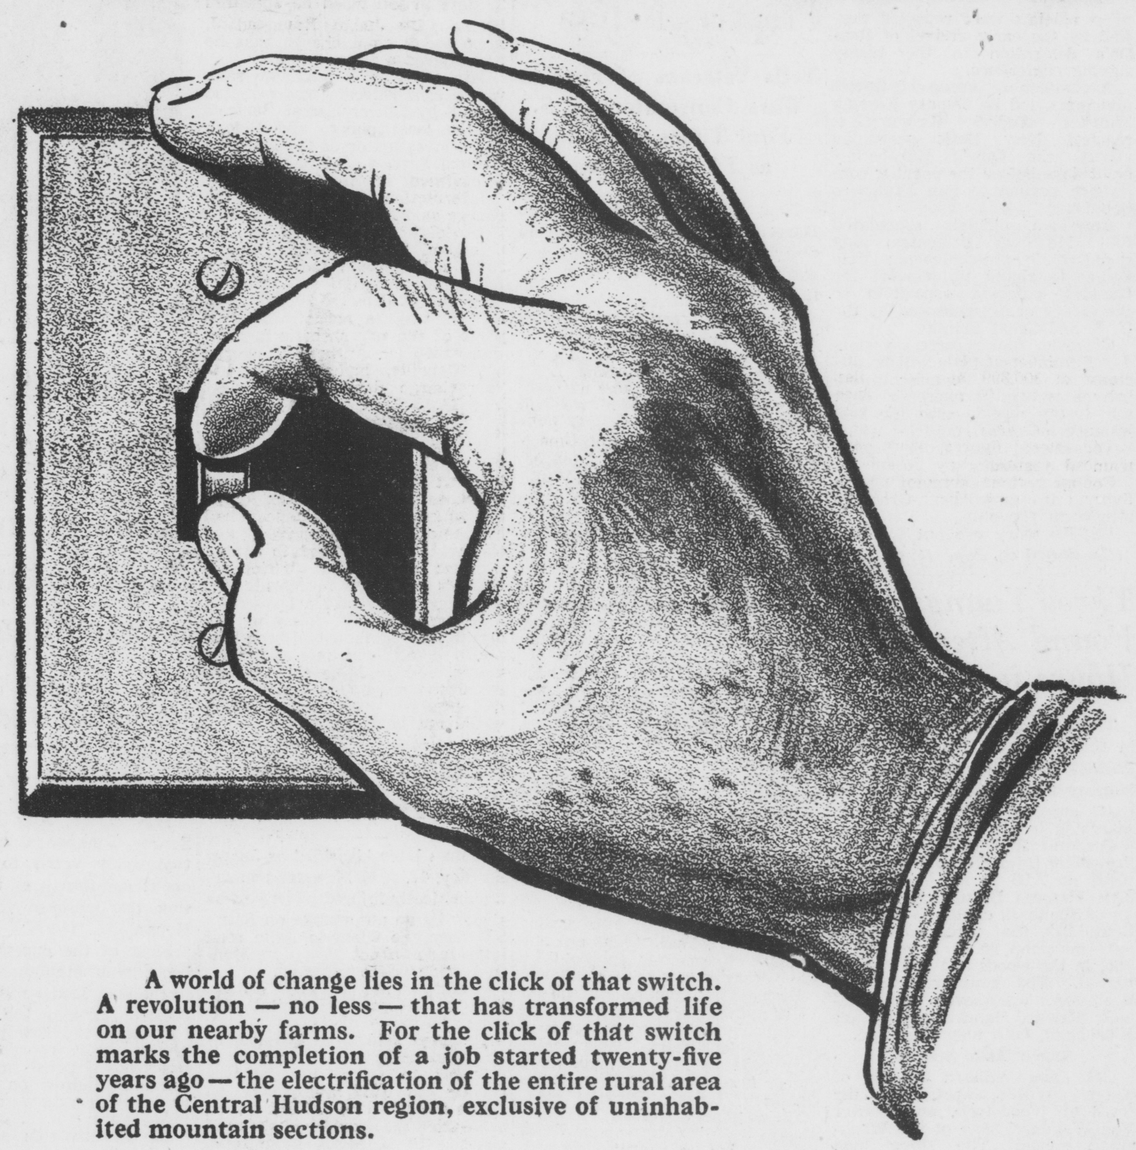
FARMERS' REVOLUTION



A world of change lies in the click of that switch. A revolution — no less — that has transformed life on our nearby farms. For the click of that switch marks the completion of a job started twenty-five years ago—the electrification of the entire rural area of the Central Hudson region, exclusive of uninhabited mountain sections.

Twenty-five years ago less than one farm in seven had electric service. Today, electricity is available to every farmer. The work which has been done here in rural electrification is one of the outstanding achievements of its kind in the nation.

The savings of many people made this achievement possible. You may not think of yourself as having helped in this work but you undoubtedly had some part in it . . . directly, if you happen to own company securities; indirectly, if you have life insurance or a bank account. You see, when banks and insurance companies accept your money, they invest it wisely. That's why much of it goes into electric light and power companies . . . companies like Central Hudson . . . companies that serve nearly everybody and are owned by nearly everybody . . . to finance rural electrification or similar expansion projects.

This is the American system under which we have lived since the founding of our country; the profit system by which we have prospered far more than any other people on the face of the earth. It is the system whereby citizens through work and industry do for themselves rather than depend upon government to do things for them.

Burma Dissatisfied

Rangoon, Burma, Aug. 28 (AP)—Burma told the United States today she cannot accept the draft Japanese peace treaty, because it would enable Japan to evade payment of war reparations to which this country feels she is fully entitled.

400 Prisoners Out

Madrid, Spain, Aug. 28 (AP)—Some 400 political prisoners have won conditional liberty from Generalissimo Francisco Franco, the government announced last night. Fifteen of them are women.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, Aug. 28—The Willing Workers Society of the Plattekill Methodist Church recently conducted its annual fair and cafeteria supper on the church lawn. Those on the committee in charge of general arrangements including booths, were, Mrs. Albert Dimsey, Mrs. James Leetch, Mrs. Herbert Becker, Jimmy Leetch and Gayle Wager, Mrs. Arthur Fosler, Mrs. Lynn Norris, the Rev. Edgar Raynis and members of the Youth Fellowship.

Highlights of the regular meeting of the Plattekill Grange, held recently at the Grange Hall, was a program on health. Miss Dorothy Meredith, public health nurse, spoke on the subject, and Gertrude Kopaski, delegate representing the local organization at the Grange Youth Training School at Cobleskill, gave a report. Ted Wright, of Ireland Corners, entertained with projection movies of scenes from Florida and other southern states. On Saturday of the past week the annual clambake was held at the hall and was successful.

Burglars Visited

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Burglars broke into the fashionable east side home of stage producer Anthony B. Farrell, police reported early today. Police could not determine what was stolen. Farrell, who was in New Haven, Conn., for the opening of his new musical, "Love and Let Love," starring Ginger Rogers, was asked by police to return here to take inventory. Police said the break apparently occurred after Farrell left for New Haven Sunday.

Plunges Nine Floors

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—A ninth-floor window of Macy's department store. A man teetering on the ledge. Thousands gazing anxiously from below. Then a plunge. This was the real life drama enacted during the height of last night's rush hour in the heart of Manhattan's shopping district. Police said many were endangered by the plunging body of John Pilgrim, 70, a Hoboken, N. J., iron moulder. The body landed on a metal awning, then rolled to the edge and dropped seven feet to the sidewalk. Later, Pilgrim's widow, Anna, said he had been ill recently. He had come to New York to shop on his day off.

Fails to Charm

Bangkok (AP)—Soothsayer Nai Lek Danasa collapsed and was rushed to hospital when a charm he was demonstrating failed to "protect" him after he had stabbed himself. Nai Lek had offered the talisman to Nai Charan Saengsuwarn, claiming it would guard him against all harm. Nai Charan was doubtful. So Nai Lek picked up a knife and stabbed himself three times. As blood flowed from his wounds, Nai Lek fainted. Nai Charan rushed him to hospital.

Shipbuilder Dies

Birkenhead, Eng., Aug. 28 (AP)—Sir Robert Stewart Johnson, 70, chairman of Cammell Laird and Company, Merseyside shipbuilders, died at his home today.

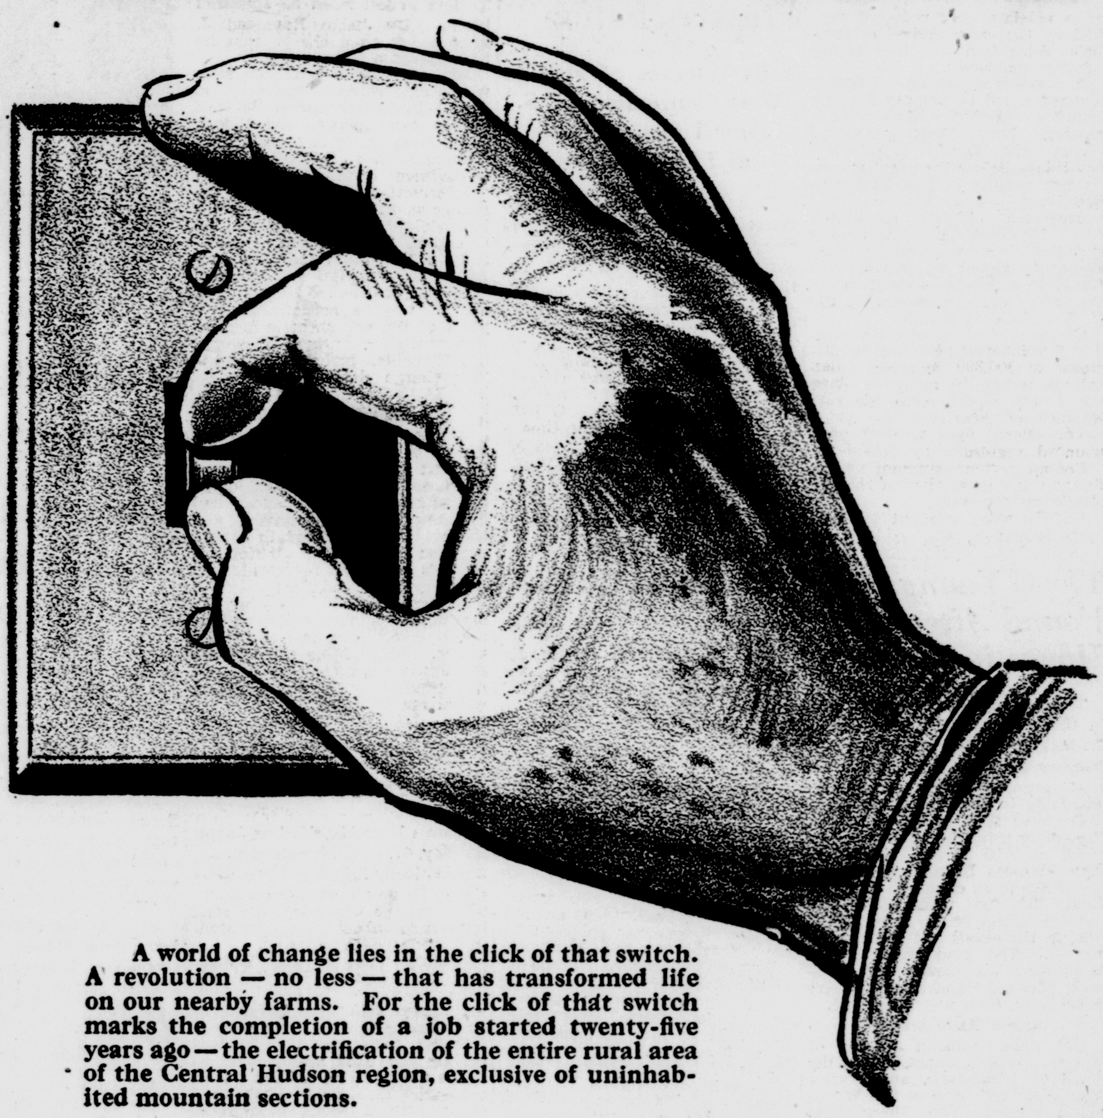
FARMERS' REVOLUTION



A world of change lies in the click of that switch. A revolution — no less — that has transformed life on our nearby farms. For the click of that switch marks the completion of a job started twenty-five years ago — the electrification of the entire rural area of the Central Hudson region, exclusive of uninhabited mountain sections.

Twenty-five years ago less than one farm in seven had electric service. Today, electricity is available to every farmer. The work which has been done here in rural electrification is one of the outstanding achievements of its kind in the nation.

The savings of many people made this achievement possible. You may not think of yourself as having helped in this work but you undoubtedly had some part in it . . . directly, if you happen to own company securities; indirectly, if you have life insurance or a bank account. You see, when banks and insurance companies accept your money, they invest it wisely. That's why much of it goes into electric light and power companies . . . companies like Central Hudson . . . companies that serve nearly everybody and are owned by nearly everybody . . . to finance rural electrification or similar expansion projects.

This is the American system under which we have lived since the founding of our country; the profit system by which we have prospered far more than any other people on the face of the earth. It is the system whereby citizens through work and industry do for themselves rather than depend upon government to do things for them.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Aug. 28—Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Shultis of Bearsville and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mabie of Port Ewen were the guests Sunday of their nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Townsend at their home in Wappingers Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Niebergall of Parkchester and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hotaling of Bloomington spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Hotaling's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freer and son Bobbie at their home on Bayard street.

Mrs. Walter Sprague of Watertown and Mrs. Paul Makepeace and son Stephen of Plessis spent the weekend with Mrs. Makepeace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schweigel. They have now returned to their homes here.

The Dorcas Society of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will meet tonight at 7:30 to make final plans for the centennial dinner to be held at the church hall September 10. Hostesses are to be Mrs. Arthur Windrum and Miss Ella Jones. Each person attending is asked to bring a small gift for the social hour.

Mrs. Nelson Bonee of Texas is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bonee. She is a former resident of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mackley of Watertown have returned home after spending the week-end with their cousin, Mrs. Arthur Fowler. They were accompanied by their daughter, Marilyn, who has spent the past two weeks with her cousins, Mrs. William Schweigel and Mrs. Fowler.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Board of the Town of Esopus will be held at the town office Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Due to State Education Department requirements School District No. 13, Port Ewen, will operate the kindergarten on a full-session basis, and will be unable to accept children from other districts, according to an announcement by Robert R. Graves, principal. Only children who will be five years of age on or before December 1, 1951, will be accepted.

Mrs. C. Miller of St. Petersburg, Fla., is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wheeler at their home on Broadway.

Mrs. Leslie Herring of Ulster Park and Mrs. Henry Osborn of this village attended the executive meeting of officers of the Ulster County Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of Mrs. Myron Shultis in Modena.

Mrs. Kathryn VanWagener and Mrs. Helen Allers and son Bobbie of Poughkeepsie were the guests of Miss Mary F. Bishop Friday at her home on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schweigel of Leonia, N. J., who motored to Fort Ticonderoga, are now visiting relatives here.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will hold its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Miss Elizabeth A. Ellsworth Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Robert Fulton will be co-hostess.

Push Button War Here

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP) — American scientists have perfected many weapons which were in the blue print stage during World War 2 and now are working on others, far more terrible, which weren't even dreamed of then, Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said yesterday. O'Mahoney told reporters the day of push-button warfare is near. Guided missiles, pilotless planes and atomic weapons "are already here," he said.

Social Security Gives $40 Million Monthly

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—A total of 1,067,292 persons in New York state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware were receiving $40,816,725 monthly in Social Security benefit payments at the latest count.

The number of persons is an increase of 300,899, and the dollar volume is up 104 per cent since the Social security program was widened last year.

The latest figures were announced yesterday by Joseph B. O'Connor regional director of the Federal Security Agency for the four-state region.

For the four states, the number of beneficiaries and the total monthly benefits were listed as:

New York—500,776 and $19,083,605.

New Jersey—171,931 and $6,777,554.

Pennsylvania—384,726 and $14,586,721.

Delaware—9,859 and $368,725.

The maximum old-age insurance payment has risen from about $45 monthly a year ago to $68.50 at present, O'Connor said. It may go as high as $80 next year, he added.

He said many families surviving an insured wage earner now receive the top family payment of $150 a month.

Doctor Fractures Leg In Fall Down Stairs

Dr. Sol Adler of Lansdowne, Pa., who had been a guest at the Katzman Bungalow Colony at Ulster Heights, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg Sunday afternoon when he fell while coming down stairs at the resort, according to Dr. Irving Feinberg. He was about to leave the place when he returned to go upstairs for a pair of slippers. On his way down he fell.

Dr. Adler was taken to the Veterans Memorial Hospital at Ellenville where he was attended by Dr. Feinberg who referred the case to Dr. Saul Ritchie of this city. Dr. Adler was taken to the Ellenville Hospital by the Humiston ambulance and later brought to the Kingston Hospital by the same ambulance.

Students Lose Weight On Diet Containing Fat

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—A reducing diet containing fat—that's right, fat—was reported today by Cornell University's School of Nutrition.

The new diet was labeled a success by the university. It was described as moderate in fat—long a taboo in reducing diets—high in protein, and low in carbohydrates.

Ten students, averaging 20 to 40 pounds overweight, tried the diet for two months. Each lost an average of 18 pounds without feeling hungry, the university said.

Under the diet, whole milk was allowed with all meals. In most diets, skim milk is specified when milk is allowed at all.

Meat of any kind was permitted twice a day. Heretofore, pork and other fatty meats were ruled out.

The diet also included one egg, a slice of bread a day, and fruits and vegetables.

Sought by FBI As Red Fugitive

WILLIAM NORMAN MARRON

William Norman Marron, also known as Bill Norman, who was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at New York, N. Y., on June 20, 1951, on a charge of conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, is the subject of a nationwide manhunt by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI described Marron as Organizational Secretary of the New York State Communist Party. A description of Marron is as follows:

Age, 49; born November 10, 1901, at Ekatrinoslav, Russia; height 5 feet 6 inches; weight, 162 pounds; build, medium; hair, black; eyes, blue; complexion, dark, heavy beard; race, white; nationality, American.

At the time of his disappearance he resided in Flushing, Long Island, N. Y. He became naturalized through his father in 1919, attended the New York city public schools and was at one time a professional basketball player, being known as "Wee Willie Marron."

Any person having information which may assist in locating William Norman Marron is requested to immediately notify the nearest FBI office.

Reis at K. of C. Supreme Council

Frank A. Reis of this city, a former district deputy and past grand knight of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, attended the 69th annual convention of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, which has concluded its sessions at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Over 300 delegates were present representing all the states, the provinces of Canada and from Cuba. Reis was one of four delegates from upstate New York.

The local delegate reports that President Truman and Pope Pius XII sent special messages to the delegates and the Spanish ambassador to the United States was one of the main speakers.

The Spanish ambassador at a dinner in conjunction with the convention declared that his government is acting in good faith and is not putting any "price" on the granting of naval and air bases to the United States. Spain wishes to get something practical done for the defense of Europe, he declared.

Terming Spain the key of the gateway between Asia and America, Ambassador John Jose asserted that Russia wants to keep Spain out of the family of nations.

The speaker further declared that communism has been our essential enemy and the director of nearly all the others. It cannot forgive us for the defeat it suffered at our hands during the Civil War and today, for other reasons, it cannot countenance our being associated in the common defense of Europe, he stated.

13-Cent Boost

Cleveland, Aug. 28 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers today announced a wage agreement providing 13-cent hourly pay boosts to nearly 26,000 workers in Goodyear plants in 10 cities. The other three members of the rubber industry's big four—Goodrich, Firestone and U. S. Rubber—already have agreed to similar 13-cent pay boosts for URW members.

Further Plans for Bowling Tourney

Further plans for the 1952 New York State Bowling Tournament here will be developed at a joint meeting tonight of committees representing the Kingston Bowling Association and the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

At this meeting at 8 o'clock at the Chamber office, it will be decided how the Chamber of Commerce can be of greatest assistance in staging the tournament.

The KBA delegation will be headed by President Joseph Magnino and tournament manager Addison Jones, and the Chamber of Commerce group by President Lawrence J. MacAvery and Maynard Mizel, chairman of a special bowling committee. Others from both groups will also be present.

Social Security Gives $40 Million Monthly

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—A total of 1,067,292 persons in New York state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware were receiving $40,816,725 monthly in Social Security benefit payments at the latest count.

The number of persons is an increase of 300,899, and the dollar volume is up 104 per cent since the Social security program was widened last year.

The latest figures were announced yesterday by Joseph B. O'Connor regional director of the Federal Security Agency for the four-state region.

For the four states, the number of beneficiaries and the total monthly benefits were listed as:

New York—500,776 and $19,083,605.

New Jersey—171,931 and $6,777,554.

Pennsylvania—384,726 and $14,586,721.

Delaware—9,859 and $368,725.

The maximum old-age insurance payment has risen from about $45 monthly a year ago to $68.50 at present, O'Connor said. It may go as high as $80 next year, he added.

He said many families surviving an insured wage earner now receive the top family payment of $150 a month.

Doctor Fractures Leg In Fall Down Stairs

Dr. Sol Adler of Lansdowne, Pa., who had been a guest at the Katzman Bungalow Colony at Ulster Heights, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg Sunday afternoon when he fell while coming down stairs at the resort, according to Dr. Irving Feinberg. He was about to leave the place when he returned to go upstairs for a pair of slippers. On his way down he fell.

Dr. Adler was taken to the Veterans Memorial Hospital at Ellenville where he was attended by Dr. Feinberg who referred the case to Dr. Saul Ritchie of this city. Dr. Adler was taken to the Ellenville Hospital by the Humiston ambulance and later brought to the Kingston Hospital by the same ambulance.

Students Lose Weight On Diet Containing Fat

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—A reducing diet containing fat—that's right, fat—was reported today by Cornell University's School of Nutrition.

The new diet was labeled a success by the university. It was described as moderate in fat—long a taboo in reducing diets—high in protein, and low in carbohydrates.

Ten students, averaging 20 to 40 pounds overweight, tried the diet for two months. Each lost an average of 18 pounds without feeling hungry, the university said.

Under the diet, whole milk was allowed with all meals. In most diets, skim milk is specified when milk is allowed at all.

Meat of any kind was permitted twice a day. Heretofore, pork and other fatty meats were ruled out.

The diet also included one egg, a slice of bread a day, and fruits and vegetables.

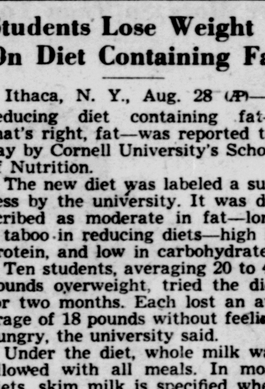
Sought by FBI As Red Fugitive



WILLIAM NORMAN MARRON

William Norman Marron, also known as Bill Norman, who was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at New York, N. Y., on June 20, 1951, on a charge of conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, is the subject of a nationwide manhunt by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI described Marron as Organizational Secretary of the New York State Communist Party. A description of Marron is as follows:

Age, 49; born November 10, 1901, at Ekatrinoslav, Russia; height 5 feet 6 inches; weight, 162 pounds; build, medium; hair, black; eyes, blue; complexion, dark, heavy beard; race, white; nationality, American.

At the time of his disappearance he resided in Flushing, Long Island, N. Y. He became naturalized through his father in 1919, attended the New York city public schools and was at one time a professional basketball player, being known as "Wee Willie Marron."

Any person having information which may assist in locating William Norman Marron is requested to immediately notify the nearest FBI office.

Reis at K. of C. Supreme Council

Frank A. Reis of this city, a former district deputy and past grand knight of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, attended the 69th annual convention of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, which has concluded its sessions at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Over 300 delegates were present representing all the states, the provinces of Canada and from Cuba. Reis was one of four delegates from upstate New York.

The local delegate reports that President Truman and Pope Pius XII sent special messages to the delegates and the Spanish ambassador to the United States was one of the main speakers.

The Spanish ambassador at a dinner in conjunction with the convention declared that his government is acting in good faith and is not putting any "price" on the granting of naval and air bases to the United States. Spain wishes to get something practical done for the defense of Europe, he declared.

Terming Spain the key of the gateway between Asia and America, Ambassador John Jose asserted that Russia wants to keep Spain out of the family of nations.

The speaker further declared that communism has been our essential enemy and the director of nearly all the others. It cannot forgive us for the defeat it suffered at our hands during the Civil War and today, for other reasons, it cannot countenance our being associated in the common defense of Europe, he stated.

13-Cent Boost

Cleveland, Aug. 28 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers today announced a wage agreement providing 13-cent hourly pay boosts to nearly 26,000 workers in Goodyear plants in 10 cities. The other three members of the rubber industry's big four—Goodrich, Firestone and U. S. Rubber—already have agreed to similar 13-cent pay boosts for URW members.

Further Plans for Bowling Tourney

Further plans for the 1952 New York State Bowling Tournament here will be developed at a joint meeting tonight of committees representing the Kingston Bowling Association and the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

At this meeting at 8 o'clock at the Chamber office, it will be decided how the Chamber of Commerce can be of greatest assistance in staging the tournament.

The KBA delegation will be headed by President Joseph Magnino and tournament manager Addison Jones, and the Chamber of Commerce group by President Lawrence J. MacAvery and Maynard Mizel, chairman of a special bowling committee. Others from both groups will also be present.

Mts. Kenya and Ruwenzori, snow-capped African mountain peaks, both are almost squarely on the equator.

ANTICIPATE THE WORST

America's foremost Russian experts agreed that Moscow made a major miscalculation when it spurred North Korea to attack South Korea last year. They believe the Kremlin did not foresee the bold Western response to that invasion, nor did it anticipate the vast rearmament program to follow.

From the fact that the Communists agreed to talk truce with us in Korea, these experts now conclude that Russia is anxious to offset this mistake. They argue that Soviet leaders, at the very least, seek a breathing spell, an easing of tensions that may lull the West back to sleep.

By the same reasoning, they conclude that Russia is unlikely in the near future to take any aggressive step which might arouse the West anew, perhaps on a far bigger scale than Korea.

Thus they believe there will be no early attack upon Germany, Yugoslavia, or Iran, prime targets in the Russian strategy of conquest.

Yet there are disturbing signs that actual Soviet thinking may not be following this line. In Yugoslavia, especially, the situation is not promising. Marshal Tito recently declared that for the first time satellite armies ringing his country are superior in strength to his own stubborn force.

Since Russia itself is obviously responsible for the satellite build-up, it cannot be unaware of the changing balance of forces. A notable increase in Soviet-inspired incidents along Tito's boundaries is another straw in the wind. These affairs are manufactured to provide excuse for attack.

Furthermore, the material state of Tito's army is not good. It sorely needs new equipment. With more U. S. money in prospect, that handicap may be corrected. But right now it makes Yugoslavia, land of the heretic Communists, a tempting morsel to Stalin.

All these factors notwithstanding, Moscow should hesitate to initiate attack on Tito, if the reasoning of America's Russian specialists is accurate. Because that assault would carry with it grave risk of embroiling Russia in World War III.

Yet some U. S. newsmen in Europe raise doubt that Russia sees it that way. They suggest that the Kremlin may be more impressed by our talk of Western unpreparedness for general war. Moscow may therefore conclude that the risk of war is NOT great, and that the satellites could with impunity jump on Tito.

If that really represents Politburo thinking, then the top Communists are less affected by the rearmament we have achieved than by the distance we still have to go.

In the welter of fact, rumor, misrepresentation and calculated falsehood which comes to the surface in Europe, how can one be sure what Stalin's conclusions are on this or any vital issue? Suffice it to say that he did not order an attack on the guess that the West wouldn't spring to Tito's aid, it would be an error dwarfing by a hundred times the mistake of Korean aggression.

We dare not assume our Washington experts are right and American reports from abroad are wrong. To be safe we must anticipate the worst. We must notify Russia in unmistakable language that an attack on Yugoslavia, however disguised as civil war or defensive retaliation, will be met by the full force of Western arms.

DRIVING REGULATIONS

The extent of childishness to which the Russians will go to annoy and embarass Americans is revealed in the report that American attaches in Moscow must be able to disassemble and reassemble an automobile engine and name all its parts in order to obtain a Russian driving permit. In mild retaliation, Washington has decreed that all Soviet representatives must take an ordinary driver's test in order to get a license. Such technicalities are generally waived as a matter of diplomatic courtesy.

Taking an automobile engine apart and putting it back together calls for practice and mechanical skill entirely different from that needed to drive an automobile safely.

The regulation is an example of bad manners and immaturity on the part of the Russian officials who devised it. Still it may be that the Russians are merely trying to impress the backward Americans with the wonderful mechanism of the automobile, which of course is claimed among Russian inventions.

THE JAPANESE TREATY

It would be most unfortunate if, at this time, anything were to happen to lessen public support for the Japanese peace treaty. If American policy in Asia is to be effective, this treaty, together with the various treaties by which the Pacific Union is being formed, will not only be a symbol of strength but an indication that the policy of appeasement, continuous since 1943, has really come to an end.

There is a growing sentiment that General Douglas MacArthur, whose labors made such a treaty possible, should attend this conference and speak at it. This could have been accomplished in one of two ways:

1. To make him a member of the American delegation;

2. To have the conference invite him to speak to it.

The first door has been closed. The President has not invited him to be a member of the American delegation, although he spent several years working on the basis for this treaty.

As for the second method, the Russians surely, and the British probably, will reject him. At any rate, it would surprise everybody, including General MacArthur, if such an invitation were issued.

The State Department went about it in the wrong way. They sounded out the general and let it leak to the press that they were sounding him out. To do what? To make a speech?

But why make a speech? For whom would he speak? For his country? For his government? For himself?

In a word, they would like to have the advantage of General MacArthur's support of the treaty without giving him credit for his labors or recognizing him in any official capacity.

This kind of indirect dealing he correctly rejected as not fitting and that ended that.

Also, the absence of China, which had fought Japan since 1931, is an error. So far as the United States and the United Nations are concerned, there is only one legally recognized China, namely, Nationalist China situated on Formosa. Failure of this China to be present raises issues that will long plague us. It creates a quarrelsome public opinion in this county.

Yet, it is of the utmost importance, from a strictly American standpoint, that public opinion in the United States should support and uphold the State Department on this treaty. Without it, forces may be let loose in Japan that may imperil our position in the east of Asia even more than it is today, because Japanese public opinion has been keyed to great expectations. Another letdown, after the MacArthur dismissal, might be very damaging. The absence of both MacArthur and China gives the impression that the State Department is still under the British thumb.

The treaty itself could perhaps be improved here and there, but so could many other documents. I think it is just about as good as we can at this moment arrange, and further delay would not be advantageous.

For what is at stake is not only Japan, but the bastion, Japan-Okinawa-Philippines-Formosa-Australia-New Zealand. That line must be held if we are to be in a defensible position. That is one fact that came out of the long 2,000,000-word palaver in the Russell Committee hearings into the dismissal of General MacArthur.

No matter how objectionable it may be to many persons in many countries, the fact remains that because of geography, propinquity and history, Japan must be the pivot of the Pacific Union and Japan must be armed.

The fear of an armed Japan is real; so is the fear of an armed Germany. But Russia has made it inevitable that both should be armed and that the United States should make herself responsible for arming her former enemies. Great Britain is equally responsible in Asia because of the ill-conceived British policy of a deal with the Chinese Communists.

Russia might have averted all this had the Kremlin not decided upon empire-building at Yalta. But Stalin's lust for world dominance is unslackable and the United States cannot wait until it stands alone, an island in a Soviet world.

The policy of appeasement (1943-51) was based on the assumption that, in time, the Russians would be smart enough to realize that another general war could undo all their gains achieved since 1938. But that assumption has proved to be an error and a new, positive policy had to be designed and accepted. The Japanese treaty is a central factor in that policy.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HELPING THE ODD BEHAVIOR PATIENT

Everywhere today there is a shortage of psychiatrists, specialists who treat cases of odd behavior. Fortunately, many patients with odd behavior actually notice for themselves that they are behaving "differently" than has been their habit and actually consult a psychiatrist themselves or do so in the advice of their family doctor. The psychiatrist tries to get at the underlying cause of the odd behavior and help direct the patient as to the best method of becoming his normal self again.

In The Journal of Mental Science, Dr. John Rickman discusses the future of psychotherapy (treatment of the mind). "In psychotherapy, the physician interprets phenomena (changes in the patient's mental and emotional make-up) presented to him by the patient during the interview, to the end that the patient's mental pain or difficulty shall be relieved and he shall have increased understanding of the unresolved emotional conflicts in his personal past experience and a better insight into his own personality."

Psychiatry used to be a limited field or specialty in medicine into which one class of troublesome people were sent when their behavior was conspicuously bad. At present, people actually seek the aid of psychiatry of their own accord because they feel at odds with themselves and believe they can be helped to help themselves.

It is because odd behavior is thought of as an ailment of the mind which can be helped by special mental treatment that it is fast losing its stigma. This is the reason, as pointed out by Dr. Rickman, that this changed attitude of the patient and the patient's family has made the demand for the help of the psychiatrist so great.

"The fact that the psychotherapist is compelled to face painful issues of human maladjustment without resort to evasion such as placebos (valueless medicine given to please patient only) gives an index of psychiatry's professional morale or standing in the community. Psychotherapy has proved successful in restoring to full capacity patients formerly incapacitated by neurotic (nervous) disabilities that did not respond to other forms of treatment."

Neurosis

There is an increasing number of men and women today who are considered neurotic. Dr. Barton has an interesting booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis," which may be obtained by sending 10 cents and 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Never More So Than Today

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Sometimes the actual Washington Merry-Go-Round whirls so fast and reverses directions so often that observers get pretty dizzy and confused just trying to follow it. In fact, the contradictions of certain high-up folks in Washington can really make even an expert's head spin. These contradictions remind you of a lot of Alices in a fantastic blunderland.

Do you think, for example, that the present Democratic administration is "liberal" and that its Republican opposition is "reactionary"? If so, consider these items which tell a revealing story:

Gas Gouge. You, the consumer, are soon going to have to pay still more for natural gas fuel. How come? Well, you can thank the great "liberal" Democratic party for those high rates. A Democratic president, Harry Truman, had soundly vetoed a bill (backed by leading Democrats) which would have indirectly resulted in increasing natural gas. Many Republicans like myself supported and applauded the Democratic President's veto.

Later, however, as reported by Drew Pearson and others, the Federal Power Commission (appointed by the same president) completely reversed the President's action and a Democratic-appointed Supreme Court, by exempting independent gas producers from federal rate control. But do you suppose that the President criticized the Federal Power Commission for its dangerous action? No, definitely not. The President said the FPC decision had "no connection" with his previous veto even though it completely reversed the veto).

So here we have a good Democrat, Harry Truman, patting on the back by implication other good Democrats who have completely stabbed one of his own policies in the back. Does that make sense? Of course not! Moreover, the Republicans whom the President has repeatedly attacked as allegedly not being interested in you, the consumer, have been the principal ones who have fought to protect the consumer from these gas rate increases. . . .

Seaway Sabotage. Take another instance. In his recent speech in Detroit, President Truman rightly praised the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway as the most this country. Yet, this very same project which would incidentally be self-paying and which has been endorsed by Herbert Hoover, Franklin Roosevelt, George Marshall, etc., has been blocked by some of the President's best friends in the Democratic-controlled Senate and House of Representatives. On the other hand, many of the leading advocates of the seaway are Republicans. So, here again we have Republicans supporting the President, while Democrats (with some notable and praiseworthy exceptions) are trying to sabotage the President and are working hand-in-glove with selfish, backward-looking railroad, and port, lobbies....

Had enough inconsistencies? Here are some more. The Merry-go-round spins faster....

Southwest Steal. The President says he opposes favors for special privilege groups. Yet, some of his leading supporters in the Senate have succeeded once again in passing (over Republican and some Democratic votes) a fantastic bill, the Central Arizona Project, which would pour three-quarters of a billion dollars down the rathole for the benefit of a few Arizona landowners....some monkey business....!

Tidal Till. In another interesting issue, the President rightly says he will veto any bill which quitclaims federal title to the oil-rich marginal sea. Many Republicans like myself will support the President in such a veto. Why? Because we think (although a good many Republicans disagree) that all Americans are entitled to ownership of the tideland treasures. But who do you suppose is spearheading the effort to destroy federal title? Why, principally, the very same Democrat leadership in the Senate and House which is usually, amazing enough, trying not to decrease but to increase and expand federal power! Is that contradictory? It certainly is....but, as the old saying goes, "it all depends on whose ox is gored...."

Coddling Crime. Take another example. Back in April, one of the most difficult fights I ever had was to try to extend the life of our Senate Crime Investigating Committee. Who do you suppose fought against the extension? Some of the leading Democrats in the Senate (although they were afraid to do it openly. Now, the special crime committee is coming to an untimely end as of September 1st. There will be rejoicing then throughout the underworld. But do you suppose that the Senate Democrats will encourage the standing Interstate Commerce Committee to carry on where the special crime group's efforts left off? That remains to be seen.

Judging from the past, the anti-crime crusade may now be put to sleep by probe-shy Democratic leaders. Yet conscientious Democratic members of the Crime Committee led the superb fight against crime in a nonpartisan way and worked in complete harmony with us Republicans against crooks and corruption. But that hasn't prevented some other Democrats from trying to hamstring our committee's work. Perhaps, the Democrats are afraid of exposing more shenanigans in the big city machines (Bronx county, Cook county, etc.) which furnish the hard core of Democratic voting strength. Does that sound likely? Could be.

Conclusions. What do these examples prove? Just this:

1. Beware of ready-made labels for any political party. Neither party, be it Republican or Democratic, has a monopoly on virtue. But, certainly, the Republican party (and not just its so-called "liberal wing") has a lot more virtue than its critics have attributed to it.

2. The term "liberal" itself is often a misnomer. It's easy for many Democrats to be "liberal" in spending other people's money and taking other people's rights away. I am against such "liberalism," just as I would be against a "conservatism" or "reactionism" which would try to run the hands of the clock backward or which would attempt to deny certain progressive steps which the American people insist on in this modern age.

O.K., Drew, thanks for the ride on the Merry-Go-Round. You might call it "The Carousel of Contradictions."

Religious Riot Averted

Rangoon (AP)—A Buddhist monk near here called the Moslem god Allah a butcher and nearly started a religious riot at Thazi, Central Burma. While the riot squad was alerted, Buddhists smoothed Moslem indignation by explaining Lawkanatha was preaching on the benefits of vegetarianism. Buddhists here are flesh eaters though the Buddhist law forbids the taking of life. Thazi's large Moslem population has forwarded a complaint to the Ministry of Religious Affairs here charging the monk with blasphemy.

Republicans Would Let Truman Hang Himself by Giving Him Strict Controls

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The political strategists in the two major parties are trying to test out the 1952 campaign issues—and their tactics crop out again and again in the day-by-day administration maneuvers and in the counterattacks from the Republicans.

Thus, for instance, some of the Republicans have caused an arching of eyebrows and some confusion among the Democrats in recommending suddenly that the President be given the strict controls he wants.

Back of this is an old rule in politics—give the party in power enough rope and they'll hang themselves on a political scaffold.

The traditional theory is that controls or restrictions are poison to the voters generally. The party in office gets blamed for all the irritations imposed by government, including bad deliveries of mail. That's what happened in the 1920 campaign. The ill effects of controls on meat caused the Democrats to lose Congress in 1946.

Lately there have been some confident predictions published about how Truman could win easily and how much he would like to run against Taft or how difficult it would be for Taft to win because he isn't a good vote-getter among those who wouldn't vote for him anyhow, and so on.

The truth is that a national election in which tens of millions of votes are cast is usually swung by basic factors—either economic or emotional or both.

There's an old rule which this correspondent has found useful in appraising ten presidential campaigns—and in eight of these his interpretation of the extent to which the rule applied to both parties turned out to be right, and in the other two elections the rule proved right but the appraisal based on the rule was incorrect.

The basic rule is that economic content wins for the party in power, as in 1916, 1928 and 1948, and economic discontent wins for the party out of power, as in 1920 and 1932.

The counter force or common denominator in the voters' minds which can upset the rule is an emotional issue, like war or threat of war. If, for example, the party in power is the victim of economic discontent but is still committed to a peace program that seeks to avert war, it can conceivably overcome the former. Where, on the other hand, as in 1916 and 1940, both economic contentment and keep-us-out-of-war program are assets for the party in power, the latter wins out.

In the 1920 election, postwar resentment against wartime restrictions and against entry into World War 1 caused many minority groups to swing from the Democratic to the Republican party and gave a weak, colorless candidate — Warren Harding — the presidency.

Candidates are rarely as influential as their parties in swinging an election. In 1948 the Democratic party was stronger than Truman. The economic content of the farm areas was enough to swing Republican votes to the Democratic party in pivotal states. This more than offset the Democratic losses in urban areas where the cost-of-living issue was raised.

All these factors cut across party lines. Here are some of the issues which will cause a switch of normal Democratic votes to the Republicans next time and vice versa:

1. The communism issue. This operated in November 1950 against the administration in Maryland. It will get Democratic votes for Senator McCarthy in Wisconsin. It will lose votes for Truman if he runs, because, despite vigorous prosecution of Communists, he has indicated through his American Legion speech that he still is on the "red herring" side of the argument. Republicans may cross over, too, on this issue but experience indicates that the depth of the Communist issue is far more emotional on the attack than on the defense.

2. The MacArthur issue. This will switch many votes both ways but the Democrats will lose far more, especially if an unsatisfactory outcome of the Korean war by next year is a matter of great controversy.

3. The morality issue. This grows out of the RFC scandals and similar episodes. These attacks usually sink in and develop early prejudices which transcend economic contentment. This is a good example of an emotional issue which will hurt the administration.

4. The draft issue. This will work against the party in power. It has on several occasions before and probably will run true to form again. There is no logic in this but in politics logic is often secondary.

5. Higher taxes. This always hurts the party in power.

6. Inflation and cost of living. This will operate against the party in power, especially among those with fixed incomes. It's too elaborate and complex a matter to argue about on the stump—and usually the party in power suffers the discredit just as they gain through high wage levels. It will be difficult to convince the voters that the Democratic majority in both houses are responsible for bad laws or lack of controls, and a Democratic President isn't.

The big question in evaluating the defections of these minority groups always is how extensive the inroads will be. Anyone, however, who thinks he can guess an election by the candidate he likes or dislikes ignores the fact that 50,000,000 voters do not decide on the basis of looks or speeches or campaign noise—they usually decide on prejudices and economic factors affecting them and their families at the time of the election campaign. A big war presents an emotional issue that always helps the party in power irrespective of economic discontent or restrictions.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 27—The new state religion of "democracy" is the only religion which is taught in our public school system. It is religion similar in important ways to the faith in the state which Adolf Hitler's regime taught children who soon were to die for an ism which many of them believed with fanatic emotion. This "democracy" is still fuzzy like a cloud and its priests disagree on minor particulars. Henry Wallace could not define "democracy" offhand nor could Eleanor Roosevelt, if they tried, independently, it would be seen that their versions were only similar, at best, but not alike, except in one particular. Both would depict it as a faith and it is alarming to some of us to understand that the faith of these two is the new religion of our new state.

This is a serious development which not only parents but all other citizens should take serious note of. The majority of public school-teachers are not educated but just persons who have been taught lessons and their qualifications are not intellectual but mental. They are not scholars but "graduates" like pharmacists. This "democracy" is a new ism which was applied with full force on their generation for the first time. They were not equipped to cope with it or examine it. The generation just before had heard strange prattle about "democracy" from the Wilson Democrats but, until the first inauguration of F. D. Roosevelt, a sufficient number of us had the experience and skepticism to recognize it as propganda for the Democratic Party. Then came the generation after the first war and they were swept off their feet by the waves of Roosevelt and Communist propaganda for "democracy."

In time, as the eastern ideologians of the Democratic party became the dominant influence in the party and the Roosevelt government, always turning to Europe for ideas which the American pioneers had turned their backs, on, "democracy" shucked the cliches of the party platform and became an ism. Jim Farley was a good party man in the homely political sense of the word. He may be still but I doubt it. How can he be when he is also a Catholic in religion and this state "democracy" which is now more boldly thrust forth as the real philosophy of the Democratic party is frankly Godless? It is no a Christian religion. It is not Jewish. It is nothing that any standard American of the vast majority would recognize as a religion at all. But it does profess to be a faith and it is being pressed upon the children in the public schools by force of a power which works through unions of teachers and parents, politicians and propagandists.

A number of cases have been carried to the Supreme Court in which citizens of a community desired that their children be taught something of the Christian religion in the public schools or that they join in prayer once or twice a day. This surely is no business of the national state in Washington. But invariably this desire has been disallowed. Because the national state has bought its way into the school system with lunches and building subsidies the national state may Q—Which cat is considered to be the rarest feline in the United States?

A—The green-eyed Abyssinian cat which is the present-day survivor of the sacred cat of ancient Egypt. There are fewer than 100 Abyssinians in the U. S. In build and disposition, the Abyssinian is similar to the Siamese but its color is usually a reddish fawn or grey with each hair tipped in black.

ANTICIPATE THE WORST

America's foremost Russian experts agreed that Moscow made a major miscalculation when it spurred North Korea to attack South Korea last year. They believe the Kremlin did not foresee the bold Western response to that invasion, nor did it anticipate the vast rearmament program to follow.

From the fact that the Communists agreed to talk truce with us in Korea, these experts now conclude that Russia is anxious to offset this mistake. They argue that Soviet leaders, at the very least, seek a breathing spell, an easing of tensions that may lull the West back to sleep.

By the same reasoning, they conclude that Russia is unlikely in the near future to take any aggressive step which might arouse the West anew, perhaps on a far bigger scale than Korea.

Thus they believe there will be no early attack upon Germany, Yugoslavia, or Iran, prime targets in the Russian strategy of conquest.

Yet there are disturbing signs that actual Soviet thinking may not be following this line. In Yugoslavia, especially, the situation is not promising. Marshal Tito recently declared that for the first time satellite armies ringing his country are superior in strength to his own stubborn force.

Since Russia itself is obviously responsible for the satellite build-up, it cannot be unaware of the changing balance of forces. A notable increase in Soviet-inspired incidents along Tito's boundaries is another straw in the wind. These affairs are manufactured to provide excuse for attack.

Furthermore, the material state of Tito's army is not good. It sorely needs new equipment. With more U. S. money in prospect, that handicap may be corrected. But right now it makes Yugoslavia, land of the heretic Communists, a tempting morsel to Stalin.

All these factors notwithstanding, Moscow should hesitate to initiate attack on Tito, if the reasoning of America's Russian specialists is accurate. Because that assault would carry with it grave risk of embroiling Russia in World War III.

Yet some U. S. newsmen in Europe raise doubt that Russia sees it that way. They suggest that the Kremlin may be more impressed by our talk of Western unpreparedness for general war. Moscow may therefore conclude that the risk of war is NOT great, and that the satellites could with impunity jump on Tito.

If that really represents Politburo thinking, then the top Communists are less affected by the rearmament we have achieved than by the distance we still have to go.

In the welter of fact, rumor, misrepresentation and calculated falsehood which comes to the surface in Europe, how can one be sure what Stalin's conclusions are on this or any vital issue? Suffice it to say that he did not order an attack on the guess that the West wouldn't spring to Tito's aid, it would be an error dwarfing by a hundred times the mistake of Korean aggression.

We dare not assume our Washington experts are right and American reports from abroad are wrong. To be safe we must anticipate the worst. We must notify Russia in unmistakable language that an attack on Yugoslavia, however disguised as civil war or defensive retaliation, will be met by the full force of Western arms.

DRIVING REGULATIONS

The extent of childishness to which the Russians will go to annoy and embarass Americans is revealed in the report that American attaches in Moscow must be able to disassemble and reassemble an automobile engine and name all its parts in order to obtain a Russian driving permit. In mild retaliation, Washington has decreed that all Soviet representatives must take an ordinary driver's test in order to get a license. Such technicalities are generally waived as a matter of diplomatic courtesy.

Taking an automobile engine apart and putting it back together calls for practice and mechanical skill entirely different from that needed to drive an automobile safely. The regulation is an example of bad manners and immaturity on the part of the Russian officials who devised it. Still it may be that the Russians are merely trying to impress the backward Americans with the wonderful mechanism of the automobile, which of course is claimed among Russian inventions.

THE JAPANESE TREATY

It would be most unfortunate if, at this time, anything were to happen to lessen public support for the Japanese peace treaty. If American policy in Asia is to be effective, this treaty, together with the various treaties by which the Pacific Union is being formed, will not only be a symbol of strength but an indication that the policy of appeasement, continuous since 1943, has really come to an end.

There is a growing sentiment that General Douglas MacArthur, whose labors made such a treaty possible, should attend this conference and speak at it. This could have been accomplished in one of two ways:

1. To make him a member of the American delegation;

2. To have the conference invite him to speak to it.

The first door has been closed. The President has not invited him to be a member of the American delegation, although he spent several years working on the basis for this treaty.

As for the second method, the Russians surely, and the British probably, will reject him. At any rate, it would surprise everybody, including General MacArthur, if such an invitation were issued.

The State Department went about it in the wrong way. They sounded out the general and let it leak to the press that they were sounding him out. To do what? To make a speech?

But why make a speech? For whom would he speak? For his country? For his government? For himself?

In a word, they would like to have the advantage of General MacArthur's support of the treaty without giving him credit for his labors or recognizing him in any official capacity.

This kind of indirect dealing he correctly rejected as not fitting and that ended that.

Also, the absence of China, which had fought Japan since 1931, is an error. So far as the United States and the United Nations are concerned, there is only one legally recognized China, namely, Nationalist China situated on Formosa. Failure of this China to be present raises issues that will long plague us. It creates a quarrelsome public opinion in this county.

Yet, it is of the utmost importance, from a strictly American standpoint, that public opinion in the United States should support and uphold the State Department on this treaty. Without it, forces may be let loose in Japan that may imperil our position in the east of Asia even more than it is today, because Japanese public opinion has been keyed to great expectations. Another letdown, after the MacArthur dismissal, might be very damaging. The absence of both MacArthur and China gives the impression that the State Department is still under the British thumb.

The treaty, itself could perhaps be improved here and there, but so could many other documents. I think it is just about as good as we can at this moment arrange, and further delay would not be advantageous.

For what is at stake is not only Japan, but the bastion, Japan-Okinawa-Philippines-Formosa-Australia-New Zealand. That line must be held if we are to be in a defensible position. That is one fact that came out of the long 2,000,000-word palaver in the Russell Committee hearings into the dismissal of General MacArthur.

No matter how objectionable it may be to many persons in many countries, the fact remains that because of geography, propinquity and history, Japan must be the pivot of the Pacific Union and Japan must be armed.

The fear of an armed Japan is real; so is the fear of an armed Germany. But Russia has made it inevitable that both should be armed and that the United States should make herself responsible for arming her former enemies. Great Britain is equally responsible in Asia because of the ill-conceived British policy of a deal with the Chinese Communists.

Russia might have averted all this had the Kremlin not decided upon empire-building at Yalta. But Stalin's lust for world dominance is unslackable and the United States cannot wait until it stands alone, an island in a Soviet world.

The policy of appeasement (1943-51) was based on the assumption that, in time, the Russians would be smart enough to realize that another general war could undo all their gains achieved since 1938. But that assumption has proved to be an error and a new, positive policy had to be designed and accepted. The Japanese treaty is a central factor in that policy.

That Body of Yours

HELPING THE ODD BEHAVIOR PATIENT

Everywhere today there is a shortage of psychiatrists, specialists who treat cases of odd behavior. Fortunately, many patients with odd behavior actually notice for themselves that they are behaving "differently" than has been their habit and actually consult a psychiatrist themselves or do so in the advice of their family doctor. The psychiatrist tries to get at the underlying cause of the odd behavior and help direct the patient as to the best method of becoming his normal self again.

In The Journal of Mental Science, Dr. John Rickman discusses the future of psychotherapy (treatment of the mind). "In psychotherapy, the physician interprets phenomena (changes in the patient's mental and emotional make-up) presented to him by the patient during the interview, to the end that the patient's mental pain or difficulty shall be relieved and he shall have increased understanding of the unresolved emotional conflicts in his personal past experience and a better insight into his own personality."

Psychiatry used to be a limited field or specialty in medicine into which one class of troublesome people were sent when their behavior was conspicuously bad. At present, people actually seek the aid of psychiatry of their own accord because they feel at odds with themselves and believe they can be helped to help themselves.

It is because odd behavior is thought of as an ailment of the mind which can be helped by special mental treatment that it is fast losing its stigma. This is the reason, as pointed out by Dr. Rickman, that this changed attitude of the patient and the patient's family has made the demand for the help of the psychiatrist so great.

"The fact that the psychotherapist is compelled to face painful issues of human maladjustment without resort to evasion such as placebos (valueless medicine given to please patient only) gives an index of psychiatry's professional morale or standing in the community. Psychotherapy has proved successful in restoring to full capacity patients formerly incapacitated by neurotic (nervous) disabilities that did not respond to other forms of treatment."

Neurosis

There is an increasing number of men and women today who are considered neurotic. Never More So Than Today

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Sometimes the actual Washington Merry-Go-Round whirls so fast and reverses directions so often that observers get pretty dizzy and confused just trying to follow it. In fact, the contradictions of certain high-up folks in Washington can really make even an expert's head spin. These contradictions remind you of a lot of Alices in a fantastic blunderland.

Do you think, for example, that the present Democratic admministration is "liberal" and that its Republican opposition is "reactionary"? If so, consider these items which tell a revealing story:

Gas Gouge. You, the consumer, are soon going to have to pay still more for natural gas fuel. How come? Well, you can thank the great "liberal" Democratic party for those high rates. A Democratic president, Harry Truman, had soundly vetoed a bill (backed by leading Democrats) which would have indirectly resulted in increasing natural gas. Many Republicans like myself supported and applauded the Democratic President's veto.

Later, however, as reported by Drew Pearson and others, the Federal Power Commission (appointed by the same president) completely reversed the President's action and a Democratic-appointed Supreme Court, by exempting independent gas producers from federal rate control. But do you suppose that the President criticized the Federal Power Commission for its dangerous action? No, definitely not. The President said the FPC decision had "no connection" with his previous veto even though it completely reversed the veto).

So here we have a good Democrat, Harry Truman, patting on the back by implication other good Democrats who have completely stabbed one of his own policies in the back. Does that make sense? Of course not! Moreover, the Republicans whom the President has repeatedly attacked as allegedly not being interested in you, the consumer, have been the principal ones who have fought to protect the consumer from these gas rate increases. . . .

Seaway Sabotage. Take another instance. In his recent speech in Detroit, President Truman rightly praised the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway as the most this country. Yet, this very same project which would incidentally be self-paying and which has been endorsed by Herbert Hoover, Franklin Roosevelt, George Marshall, etc., has been blocked by some of the President's best friends in the Democratic-controlled Senate and House of Representatives. On the other hand, many of the leading advocates of the seaway are Republicans. So, here again we have Republicans supporting the President, while Democrats (with some notable and praiseworthy exceptions) are trying to sabotage the President and are working hand-in-glove with selfish, backward-looking railroad, and port, lobbies....

Had enough inconsistencies? Here are some more. The Merry-go-round spins faster....

Southwest Steal. The President says he opposes favors for special privilege groups. Yet, some of his leading supporters in the Senate have succeeded once again in passing (over Republican and some Democratic votes) a fantastic bill, the Central Arizona Project, which would pour three-quarters of a billion dollars down the rathole for the benefit of a few Arizona landowners....some monkey business....!

Tidal Till. In another interesting issue, the President rightly says he will veto any bill which quitclaims federal title to the oil-rich marginal sea. Many Republicans like myself will support the President in such a veto. Why? Because we think (although a good many Republicans disagree) that all Americans are entitled to ownership of the tideland treasures. But who do you suppose is spearheading the effort to destroy federal title? Why, principally, the very same Democrat leadership in the Senate and House which is usually, amazing enough, trying not to decrease but to increase and expand federal power! Is that contradictory? It certainly is....but, as the old saying goes, "it all depends on whose ox is gored...."

Coddling Crime. Take another example. Back in April, one of the most difficult fights I ever had was to try to extend the life of our Senate Crime Investigating Committee. Who do you suppose fought against the extension? Some of the leading Democrats in the Senate (although they were afraid to do it openly. Now, the special crime committee is coming to an untimely end as of September 1st. There will be rejoicing then throughout the underworld. But do you suppose that the Senate Democrats will encourage the standing Interstate Commerce Committee to carry on where the special crime group's efforts left off? That remains to be seen.

Judging from the past, the anti-crime crusade may now be put to sleep by probe-shy Democratic leaders. Yet conscientious Democratic members of the Crime Committee led the superb fight against crime in a nonpartisan way and worked in complete harmony with us Republicans against crooks and corruption. But that hasn't prevented some other Democrats from trying to hamstring our committee's work. Perhaps, the Democrats are afraid of exposing more shenanigans in the big city machines (Bronx county, Cook county, etc.) which furnish the hard core of Democratic voting strength. Does that sound likely? Could be.

Conclusions. What do these examples prove? Just this:

1. Beware of ready-made labels for any political party. Neither party, be it Republican or Democratic, has a monopoly on virtue. But, certainly, the Republican party (and not just its so-called "liberal wing") has a lot more virtue than its critics have attributed to it.

2. The term "liberal" itself is often a misnomer. It's easy for many Democrats to be "liberal" in spending other people's money and taking other people's rights away. I am against such "liberalism," just as I would be against a "conservatism" or "reactionism" which would try to run the hands of the clock backward or which would attempt to deny certain progressive steps which the American people insist on in this modern age.

O.K., Drew, thanks for the ride on the Merry-Go-Round. You might call it "The Carousel of Contradictions."

Religious Riot Averted

Rangoon (AP)—A Buddhist monk near here called the Moslem god Allah a butcher and nearly started a religious riot at Thazi, Central Burma. While the riot squad was alerted, Buddhists smoothed Moslem indignation by explaining Lawkanatha was preaching on the benefits of vegetarianism. Buddhists here are flesh eaters though the Buddhist law forbids the taking of life. Thazi's large Moslem population has forwarded a complaint to the Ministry of Religious Affairs here charging the monk with blasphemy.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The political strategists in the two major parties are trying to test out the 1952 campaign issues—and their tactics crop out again and again in the day-by-day administration maneuvers and in the counterattacks from the Republicans.

Thus, for instance, some of the Republicans have caused an arching of eyebrows and some confusion among the Democrats in recommending suddenly that the President be given the strict controls he wants.

Back of this is an old rule in politics—give the party in power enough rope and they'll hang themselves on a political scaffold.

The traditional theory is that controls or restrictions are poison to the voters generally. The party in office gets blamed for all the irritations imposed by government, including bad deliveries of mail. That's what happened in the 1920 campaign. The ill effects of controls on meat caused the Democrats to lose Congress in 1946.

Lately there have been some confident predictions published about how Truman could win easily and how much he would like to run against Taft or how difficult it would be for Taft to win because he isn't a good vote-getter among those who wouldn't vote for him anyhow, and so on.

The truth is that a national election in which tens of millions of votes are cast is usually swung by basic factors—either economic or emotional or both.

There's an old rule which this correspondent has found useful in appraising ten presidential campaigns—and in eight of these his interpretation of the extent to which the rule applied to both parties turned out to be right, and in the other two elections the rule proved right but the appraisal based on the rule was incorrect.

The basic rule is that economic content wins for the party in power, as in 1916, 1928 and 1948, and economic discontent wins for the party out of power, as in 1920 and 1932.

The counter force or common denominator in the voters' minds which can upset the rule is an emotional issue, like war or threat of war. If, for example, the party in power is the victim of economic discontent but is still committed to a peace program that seeks to avert war, it can conceivably overcome the former. Where, on the other hand, as in 1916 and 1940, both economic contentment and keep-us-out-of-war program are assets for the party in power, the latter wins out.

In the 1920 election, postwar resentment against wartime restrictions and against entry into World War 1 caused many minority groups to swing from the Democratic to the Republican party and gave a weak, colorless candidate — Warren Harding — the presidency.

Candidates are rarely as influential as their parties in swinging an election. In 1948 the Democratic party was stronger than Truman. The economic content of the farm areas was enough to swing Republican votes to the Democratic party in pivotal states. This more than offset the Democratic losses in urban areas where the cost-of-living issue was raised.

All these factors cut across party lines. Here are some of the issues which will cause a switch of normal Democratic votes to the Republicans next time and vice versa:

1. The communism issue. This operated in November 1950 against the administration in Maryland. It will get Democratic votes for Senator McCarthy in Wisconsin. It will lose votes for Truman if he runs, because, despite vigorous prosecution of Communists, he has indicated through his American Legion speech that he still is on the "red herring" side of the argument. Republicans may cross over, too, on this issue but experience indicates that the depth of the Communist issue is far more emotional on the attack than on the defense.

2. The MacArthur issue. This will switch many votes both ways but the Democrats will lose far more, especially if an unsatisfactory outcome of the Korean war by next year is a matter of great controversy.

3. The morality issue. This grows out of the RFC scandals and similar episodes. These attacks usually sink in and develop early prejudices which transcend economic contentment. This is a good example of an emotional issue which will hurt the administration.

4. The draft issue. This will work against the party in power. It has on several occasions before and probably will run true to form again. There is no logic in this but in politics logic is often secondary.

5. Higher taxes. This always hurts the party in power.

6. Inflation and cost of living. This will operate against the party in power, especially among those with fixed incomes. It's too elaborate and complex a matter to argue about on the stump—and usually the party in power suffers the discredit just as they gain through high wage levels. It will be difficult to convince the voters that the Democratic majority in both houses are responsible for bad laws or lack of controls, and a Democratic President isn't.

The big question in evaluating the defections of these minority groups always is how extensive the inroads will be. Anyone, however, who thinks he can guess an election by the candidate he likes or dislikes ignores the fact that 50,000,000 voters do not decide on the basis of looks or speeches or campaign noise—they usually decide on prejudices and economic factors affecting them and their families at the time of the election campaign. A big war presents an emotional issue that always helps the party in power irrespective of economic discontent or restrictions.

13 Plead Innocent

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Thirteen persons accused in connection with an alleged $3,000,000-a-year dope ring entered innocent pleas yesterday to federal charges of narcotics and counterfeiting law violations. Each defendant was named in at least one of three federal indictments listing the various counts. Joseph Orsini, 50, described as head of the alleged ring, headed the list of those who pleaded before Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock. Orsini's bail was reduced from $100,000 to $50,000. Orsini, a Frenchman, had been held at Ellis Island before his arrest on the dope-bogus money charges. While deportation proceedings were pending against him, federal agents said, he continued to direct the ring from the island.

TV IN A TEEPEE — Ol' debbil TV has invaded the peaceful antiquity of the American Indian. Sioux Indian Chief Red Cloud has gone and had a TV set installed in his teepee—on a studio lot in Hollywood where he is playing a featured role in a movie. The chief says he's plenty sold on television but, "It would make my ancestors turn over in their graves."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug 28 (AP)—Rails put a little life into the stock market today after a late start.

It was the first day of the recently-approved freight rate increases for the railroads and stocks of many of the carriers moved ahead a little the market generally perked up.

Most of the advances were in fractions but here and there gains of a point or more showed up in the list. As prices moved ahead livelier.

Anaconda and Kennecott Copper lost small fractions as a result of the labor dispute that tied up the strategic defense industry.

Astoria Man Pays $25 For Reckless Driving

John J. Mintler, 36, of Astoria, L. I., was fined $25 on a reckless driving charge by Justice of the Peace George J. Braendly of the town of Woodstock. Mintler pleaded guilty at a hearing on Monday on the charge that was placed against him following an accident reported on August 22.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police reported Mintler's automobile collided with one owned by Clifford Dunkel, Sr., Lake Hill postmaster, on a curve in the Lake Hill-Willow road about 10:30 a. m. on August 22. Dunkel's car was driven by his son, Clifford, Jr., 18, at the time, Dunn said, and it was alleged that Mintler crossed a double white line in making the curve. No personal injuries were reported.

Gasoline Price War

Newark, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—The gasoline price war spread over more of New Jersey today as many dealers cut their rates four to six cents below the normal level. Some Essex county stations joined the trend, setting their price for standard grade fuel at 17.9 cents a gallon—four cents below the regular level of 23.9 cents. In parts of Union county where the price war has been running for a longer time a few stations have cut to 16.7 cents a gallon.

Copper Strike Continues

Denver, Aug. 28 (AP)—A nationwide strike of copper workers continued today while President Truman and federal officials awaited union replies to their appeal for an end to the walkout. Defense officials said the strike was hitting the mobilization drive at its weakest point since copper is the scarcest of the major metals. The strike also affects zinc, lead and silver production.

Move Up to Iran

London, Aug. 28 (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special negotiator in the Anglo-Iranian crisis, said today the present cooling off period may lead to a settlement satisfactory to both countries. "I believe a solution is possible," he told a news conference at the American embassy. "A cooling off period may be valuable." "The next move is up to Iran," Harriman said.

Anderson Loses 1,000 Bales of Hay in Fire

A large two-story converted chicken coop on the property of Supervisor Howard Anderson at Accord was destroyed by fire Sunday together with about 1,000 bales of hay stored in the building. The building had been converted for housing cattle during the winter months and had a capacity of some 20 to 30 head of stock.

Members of the Accord fire department, of which Mr. Anderson is chief, responded to an alarm. An investigation disclosed that the fire had been started by small children who had been playing with matches. There was no insurance on the building.

Bombing of Rashin

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—A record Communist effort to rush arms and men to the Korean front prompted the U. S. decision to reverse its earlier policy and bomb Rashin, the rail center near Russian Siberia. The Communists have been moving men and equipment into the war zone continuously since the start of the armistice talks at Kaesong. But in the past week or so this movement has been speeded up, taking on what some military officials here regard as the semblance of an effort to meet a deadline.

Supervisors Will Participate in 300th Anniversary

Roy F. Denniston, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, on Monday evening appointed a committee of seven members of the board to serve with the Kingston committee which is planning an observance of the 300th anniversary of Kingston next year.

Harry M. Rigby, chairman of the committee, sent a communication to the board of supervisors inviting the board to participate in the celebration and suggesting that the board name a committee to work with the local committee.

Observance of the 300th anniversary next year will be of historical interest, not only in Kingston but throughout the county.

Chairman Denniston in accordance with a resolution adopted by the board, which voted unanimously to participate in the observance, named Supervisors Relyea of Hurley, Gaffney of Lloyd, Elliott of New Paltz, McHugh of Shawangunk, Kolano of the fourth ward, Cook of the first ward, Sinsabaugh of the fifth ward as members of the 300th anniversary celebration committee.

13 Plead Innocent

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Thirteen persons accused in connection with an alleged $3,000,000-a-year dope ring entered innocent pleas yesterday to federal charges of narcotics and counterfeiting law violations. Each defendant was named in at least one of three federal indictments listing the various counts. Joseph Orsini, 50, described as head of the alleged ring, headed the list of those who pleaded before Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock. Orsini's bail was reduced from $100,000 to $50,000. Orsini, a Frenchman, had been held at Ellis Island before his arrest on the dope-bogus money charges. While deportation proceedings were pending against him, federal agents said, he continued to direct the ring from the island.

Ike Won't Comment

Paris, Aug. 28 (AP)—General Eisenhower's staff officers said today there would be no comment from the general concerning the filing of his name as a Democratic candidate for president in next May's Oregon primary election.

TV IN A TEEPEE — Ol' debbil TV has invaded the peaceful antiquity of the American Indian. Sioux Indian Chief Red Cloud has gone and had a TV set installed in his teepee—on a studio lot in Hollywood where he is playing a featured role in a movie. The chief says he's plenty sold on television but, "It would make my ancestors turn over in their graves."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug 28 (AP)—Rails put a little life into the stock market today after a late start.

It was the first day of the recently-approved freight rate increases for the railroads and stocks of many of the carriers moved ahead a little the market generally perked up.

Most of the advances were in fractions but here and there gains of a point or more showed up in the list. As prices moved ahead livelier.

Anaconda and Kennecott Copper lost small fractions as a result of the labor dispute that tied up the strategic defense industry.

Astoria Man Pays $25 For Reckless Driving

John J. Mintler, 36, of Astoria, L. I., was fined $25 on a reckless driving charge by Justice of the Peace George J. Braendly of the town of Woodstock. Mintler pleaded guilty at a hearing on Monday on the charge that was placed against him following an accident reported on August 22.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police reported Mintler's automobile collided with one owned by Clifford Dunkel, Sr., Lake Hill postmaster, on a curve in the Lake Hill-Willow road about 10:30 a. m. on August 22. Dunkel's car was driven by his son, Clifford, Jr., 18, at the time, Dunn said, and it was alleged that Mintler crossed a double white line in making the curve. No personal injuries were reported.

Gasoline Price War

Newark, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—The gasoline price war spread over more of New Jersey today as many dealers cut their rates four to six cents below the normal level. Some Essex county stations joined the trend, setting their price for standard grade fuel at 17.9 cents a gallon—four cents below the regular level of 23.9 cents. In parts of Union county where the price war has been running for a longer time a few stations have cut to 16.7 cents a gallon.

Copper Strike Continues

Denver, Aug. 28 (AP)—A nationwide strike of copper workers continued today while President Truman and federal officials awaited union replies to their appeal for an end to the walkout. Defense officials said the strike was hitting the mobilization drive at its weakest point since copper is the scarcest of the major metals. The strike also affects zinc, lead and silver production.

Move Up to Iran

London, Aug. 28 (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special negotiator in the Anglo-Iranian crisis, said today the present cooling off period may lead to a settlement satisfactory to both countries. "I believe a solution is possible," he told a news conference at the American embassy. "A cooling off period may be valuable." "The next move is up to Iran," Harriman said.

Free Oatis, Says Truman

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Truman told the new Czechoslovak ambassador today the best way to restore cordial relations with the United States would be for his government to free William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent jailed there on spy charges.

Anderson Loses 1,000 Bales of Hay in Fire

A large two-story converted chicken coop on the property of Supervisor Howard Anderson at Accord was destroyed by fire Sunday together with about 1,000 bales of hay stored in the building. The building had been converted for housing cattle during the winter months and had a capacity of some 20 to 30 head of stock.

Members of the Accord fire department, of which Mr. Anderson is chief, responded to an alarm. An investigation disclosed that the fire had been started by small children who had been playing with matches. There was no insurance on the building.

Bombing of Rashin

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—A record Communist effort to rush arms and men to the Korean front prompted the U. S. decision to reverse its earlier policy and bomb Rashin, the rail center near Russian Siberia. The Communists have been moving men and equipment into the war zone continuously since the start of the armistice talks at Kaesong. But in the past week or so this movement has been speeded up, taking on what some military officials here regard as the semblance of an effort to meet a deadline.

A couple of deacons were out hunting Sunday morning when one of them said:

First Deacon—What would our pastor think if he knew we were out hunting this morning?

Second Deacon—I don't know, but I couldn't have been at church anyway. My wife is sick.

The best proof of a mother's love is your photo taken at age 12.

Captain—What did that seasick teacher say when you asked him if you could bring him anything?

Steward—He said, "Bring me an island."

Proverty is uncomfortable, as I can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself.

—James A. Garfield.

She—You not only have broken my heart, but you've spoiled my entire evening.

Richmond — That fellow can speak three languages?

Kingston — Yes. Manhattan, Brooklyn, and Bronx!

Forlorn and friendless is Gregory Glimm;
Even his barber won't speak to him.

It is just as hard to find a needle in a girl's hands today as it is in a haystack.

Lawyer (reading a client's last will and testament (to a circle of expectant relatives) — And so, being of sound mind, I spent every cent I had before I died.

He—I can tell you the score of the game before it starts.

She—What is it?

He—Nothing to nothing.

Hal—Haven't I met you somewhere before?

Sue—No doubt. I have often been there.

Be slow to fall into friendship, but once you have done so continue to be firm and constant.

Wife—Dear, didn't I hear the clock strike three when you came in?

Husband—You did. It started to chime eleven, but I stopped it to keep it from awakening you.

Man has his will; woman has her way.

Artists Will Elect New Board Members

Woodstock, Aug. 28—An important general membership meeting of the Woodstock Artists Association will be held at the Art Gallery Wednesday at 8 p. m. During the meeting constitutional changes will be voted; election of new board members will take place, and there will be an annual report of committees.

It has been announced by the Association that 50 of Woodstock's most famous artists have donated small paintings, which may be subscribed for for the price of $25 per painting, for the benefit of the Association. Each subscriber will receive a picture. The pictures will be on exhibit at the Gallery from August 28, through Sept. 3. Subscriptions will be received at the Gallery or by Phoebe Towbin and her assistants.

A party for subscribers and contributing artists will be held at the Gallery Sept. 5, at 5 p. m.

Piano Recital Set

Woodstock, Aug. 28—A piano recital by the pupils of Inez Carroll Richards will be held at her studio in Byrdcliffe, Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the Richards' studio. The public is invited to attend. The following pupils will participate: Gay Ellen Bare, Barbara Cohn, Alwina Geneli, who has just graduated from Saugerties High School; Jane Van Winkle, of Stone Ridge and a senior at Mt. Holyoke College, and Cynthia Giegerich, who has graduated from New Paltz State Teachers College and is now a full-fledged kindergarten teacher.

String Group Plays Before SRO Crowd

Woodstock, Aug. 28—Playing to a standing room only audience, the Woodstock String Quartet, with Cynthia Eddy Britt, cellist; Leon Barzin, violist; and Joseph Wolman, pianist as guest artists, Thursday night at the Town Hall, aroused an atmosphere of excitement and anticipation in the hall even before concert time. In the Brahms Sonata for viola and piano, with Leon Barzin and Joseph Wolman performing, the artists played with articulation, the piano giving admirable support to the singing viola.

The audience obviously enjoyed the Milhaud String Quartet No. 7, played by Sidney Harth, violinist; Teresa Testa, violin; Carolyn Vogt, violist; and Engelbert Roentgen, cellist. The work is permeated by a fleeting quality of unrest.

In the Turina Scene Andalouse for viola solo, with the piano and string quartet, the piano set the mood of the twilight of the evening, played with delightful dance-like Spanish rhythms. Barzin, who is the conductor of the New York National Symphony Orchestra, was obviously in his element as leader of the ensemble.

The Boccherini Quintet for two violins, viola and two cellos provided a delightful conclusion to the evening's program and was received with enthusiasm by the audience.

During the intermission Roentgen announced that the concert Thursday, Aug. 30, at 8:45 p. m., at the Town Hall would be given for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Fund. In addition to the members of the Woodstock String Quartet who will be heard, will be Ilse Sass, pianist; Cynthia Eddy Britt, cellist; Madeline Wood, contralto; and Dr. Hans Cohn, cellist.

The following program will be presented: Haydn's String Quartet, opus 33, No. 3, with the string quartet; piano selections by Chopin, "Raindrops, Prelude D Flat Major, Valse Brilliante in A Flat Major," played by Ilse Sass; Roentgen's five songs for contralto with words by the following Woodstock writers, Isabel Doughty, Eva Beard, Martin Schuetze, Marion Bullard, Nancy Chase, sung by Madeline Wood, accompanied by Ilse Sass; violin selections, Bloch's Nigun and De Falla's Spanish Dance, played by Sidney Harth and Ilse Sass; Popper's Requiem for Three Cellos and Piano Accompaniment, played by Cynthia Eddy Britt, Hans Ilse Sass; and a repeat performance of William Kroll's four characteristic pieces for string quartet, Little March, Magyar, The Ancient (based on a Hebrew Melody) and Cossack.

All proceeds will be given to the Woodstock Recreation Fund.

Village Scouts Open Fund Drive

Speakers Stress Council Is Vital

Woodstock, Aug. 28—A kick-off dinner to initiate the campaign for funds in Woodstock for the Rip Van Winkle Council of the Boy Scouts of America, of Ulster and Greene counties, was held Friday night in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church.

With the Rev. Harvey I. Todd presiding, addresses were given to the members of Cub Pack 34 and Scout Troop 34, by George Matthews, president of the Council; Don Bishop, of West Shokan, chairman of the special campaign fund for the western district of the Council, and George Dennis, scout executive.

Every speaker stressed the fact that scouting and cubbing can only be carried on under a council and executive administration. According to the Rev. Mr. Todd, "without this Council it would be impossible to carry on scouting and cubbing. Money is spent on scouts throughout the Ulster and Greene area in which we share."

Contributions may be given to any one of the following solicitors for the annual Boy Scout Council campaign: Fred Toms, captain; Dr. Paul Perlman, Rodney Lethbridge, M. J. Doremus, Richard Crane, David Mellert, captain; Mrs. David Mellert, Frederick Ledogar, Mrs. William Vogel, Montcena DeWitt, Charles Rapp, captain; Charles Kullman, Corson Hutchins, William Bowman, Warren Graver, captain; Charles Boswell, Theodore Lee, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, Walter S. Van Wagenen, captain; Harold Mellin, Fennell Franckling, John Pike, the Rev. Charles Wharton, Clifford Carnright, captain; Edmund Gilligan, Craig Vosburg, Edgar Baker and Konrad Cramer.

Health Committee Plans Barn Dance

Woodstock, Aug. 28 — The Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee will hold an old-fashioned barn dance Saturday, Sept. 1, at the Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville, at 8 p. m., for the benefit of the dental clinic maintained here for the children of the township.

It was announced by Mrs. Joseph Hilton, chairman of the committee for the dance, that cartoonist Dave Huffine and John Pike, noted watercolor artist, will act as village "constables" during the evening, and will be in charge of the various surprise events planned for the occasion. John Striebel, creator of the Dixie Dugan cartoon strip, will serve as Justice of the Peace, and Edmund Gilligan, noted writer will be the "judge." Wilna Hervey and Mrs. John Striebel will be judges of costumes. Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, funniest and other old-style country costumes.

Music for square dancing will be provided by William Spanhake of Wittenberg, famed in this area as a square dance caller, who is contributing his services for the evening. He will be assisted by two other musicians.

There will be a hay wagon travelling through the Woodstock village to the Bearsville hall about dance time and anyone wishing transportation is invited to come aboard.

The Odd Fellows Hall will be decorated by members of the committee. Tickets may be obtained from the following members. The Mmes. Joseph Hilton, Clarence Snyder, Joseph Marr, Gilbert Schneider, George Behrens, Luis Bared, Victor Busch, Harry Kitzschbach, George Laws, Warren Hutty, Elizabeth Clough, Charles King, Richard E. Thibaut, Jr., or at the box office on the night of the dance.

Performances Planned

Woodstock, Aug. 28—The Peppermint Puppeteers of the children's workshop of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will present two performances of La Petrouchka, in the downstairs workroom of the Guild. The first performance will be Friday, Aug. 31, at 3 p. m. and the second on Saturday, Sept. 1, at 11 a. m. Mrs. Margaret Chaplin Wetterau, who has been in charge of the children's workshop at the Guild for the past three years, will be assisted by Marsha Waterous. There is no admission charge but a collection will be made for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Field.

Rebekahs to Meet

Woodstock, Aug. 28—The regular monthly meeting of Agapae Rebekah Lodge will be held Wednesday, Sept. 5, at the Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville, at 8 p. m. The Agapae Rebekahs report a highy successful fair and supper which was held last Thursday afternoon and night.

French Camp Kids Hold Annual Party

Woodstock, Aug. 28—The children of the French Camp entertained at their annual party in Byrdcliffe, last Saturday afternoon for a large group of parents and friends.

Opening the program six of the children presented a performance of W. W. Jacob's Monkey's Paw, under the direction of Jimmy Wrynn, with the following cast: Peter Liebert, Judy Walton, Serge Angiel and Philip Renard. The play was followed by several musical selections played by Dick Martin, violinist; Judy Strong, flute, and songs by Victor Hoffman.

A colorful highlight of the afternoon was the all-Breton Dance presented by 16 children in costume, followed by the singing of a group of French songs. The program also included a group of competitive ball games.

Participating in a special ceremony, Miss Katherine Fellows, teacher of French at Kingston High School, who acted as judge, assisted by Mrs. Mona Robins and Miss Daumarie, chief of information at the French Embassy, presented prizes for accomplishments in French to the following children at the camp: Peter Liebert, first, and Jimmy Wrynn, second in the senior of high school group (medal given by Mrs. Walter P. McTeigue); Philip Leonard, first, Serge Angiel, second, and Christine Reitlinger, third, prizes to French speaking children; John Dunston, first, and Michele Stuart, second, prizes to children at the school all year round; Matilda Peller, first, and John Walton, second, prizes to children attending the camp this summer.

Among the 80 guests who attended were visitors from New York, Baltimore, Washington and this village. Refreshments were served after the program.

Artists-Writers' Game Nets $35 for Rec Fund

Woodstock, Aug. 28—More fun than baseball was the order of the afternoon last Sunday at the annual Artists and Writers baseball game, played for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Fund. Filling in a couple of gaps in the teams, two ladies joined the game, and although not particularly expert baseball players, Barbara Kroll, violist, and Susan Barrow, writer, were effective additions to the teams and contributed to the general merriment. Spectacular plays were made by Eugene Ludins, artist, Peter Whitehead, Heywood Hale Broun, actor and writer, and other participants. An efficient job of refereeing was handled by William Kroll, violinist.

A total of $35 was raised for the fund.

Pupils to Exhibit

Woodstock, Aug. 27—Frances Stein will have an exhibition of the work of her pupils at her studio on the Old Wagon Wheel road on lower Ohayo Mountain, opening Monday, Sept. 4, from 4 to 7 p. m. Mrs. Stein's pupils, who range in gaes from three to 10 years, are from Woodstock and Zena, and will show watercolors, crayon drawings and other art work.

Church School Starts

Woodstock, Aug. 28 — The Dutch Reformed Church Sunday school will start on Sunday, Sept. 9, at 10 a. m. and will continue throughout the month.

Died Saturday

JOHN W. BENTLEY

Woodstock, Aug. 28—John W. Bentley, Woodstock artist, who died suddenly in Kingston Saturday morning, was one of the vanguard of young art students who came here to study with Birge Harrison in 1909. Since that time he had been closely identified with the colony, although he had lived in Kingston since last October. The son of a prosperous silk manufacturer of Paterson, N. J., Bentley as a young man was unenthusiastic about entering the family business and instead began his studies at the Art Students League in New York, working with the late Frank V. Dumond and the late George Bridgman, famous life teacher.

Bentley, like so many of the young students who came here early in the century, occupied a number of barn loft studios. Prior to his removal to Kingston last fall, he lived for 14 years in the former Larry Elwyn home, later known as the Bandbox on the corner of Tannery Brook and Tinker street.

Bentley had been a member of the Salmagundi Club and following a trip some years ago to the South Seas, where he painted extensively, he had a one-man show of his paintings at a Fifth Avenue gallery. For two years he worked on federal art projects.

Bentley had recently returned to Kingston from a trip visiting his sister in Pennsylvania.

Community Glee Club Sings First Concert

Woodstock, Aug. 28—An audience of about 200 enthusiastically greeted the first performance of the Woodstock Community Glee Club heard last Saturday afternoon at the Concert Dardenne in Wittenberg. As the first number on the program, Victor H. Dardenne, violinist, played Bach's Aria, a rich and sonorous composition. Dardenne stated that the work was played in the nature of dedication of his new home on the Yankee Pond road, where the concert was presented.

Dardenne also played with Clara Chichester, pianist, one of Villa-Lobos earlier works, Sonata Fantaisie, which was given a masterly reading and executed with finesse.

The Woodstock Community Glee Club, under the direction of Zelinda V. Dardenne, made an auspicious beginning singing the Beethoven Moonlight, Wagner's Spinning Wheel, Saint-Saens Spring Chorus, and Gounod's Holy Holy, which was again repeated by popular request at the close of the concert. The chorus sang with precision and displayed ample resources of expression.

Fort the final number Dardenne, Clara Chichester and Cynthia Eddy, cellist, presented the beautiful guileless Mendelssohn Trio in D minor. Throughout a work of joyous music, the tones seem to complement each other and were especially singing and romantic in the Andante movement.

During the buffet supper which followed the concert, members of the chorus presented Mrs. Dardenne with a silver plate on which was engraved, "Zelinda V. Dardenne, founder of the Woodstock Community Glee Club."

Village Notes

Woodstock, Aug. 27—Mrs. Russell Rypsam entertained Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Arthur F. Wyman, Miss Elizabeth H. Wyman, Mrs. Duglas Drake, Mrs. Frank Bensing and Mrs. Stanley Crane.

Miss Nancy Summers is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley G. Summers, at their home on the Glasco Turnpike. Miss Summers will return to Florida State University in Talahassee, Fla., in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Mearns entertained at their home in Bearsville Wednesday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Houghland, who are staying at the Webster cottage in Byrdcliffe. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kaj Klitgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Speicher, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley G. Woodstock, Aug. 28—More fun than baseball was the order of the afternoon last Sunday at the annual Artists and Writers baseball game, played for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Fund. Filling in a couple of gaps in the teams, two ladies joined the game, and although not particularly expert baseball players, Barbara Kroll, violist, and Susan Barrow, writer, were effective additions to the teams and contributed to the general merriment. Spectacular plays were made by Eugene Ludins, artist, Peter Whitehead, Heywood Hale Broun, actor and writer, and other participants. An efficient job of refereeing was handled by William Kroll, violinist.

A total of $35 was raised for the fund.

Pupils to Exhibit

Woodstock, Aug. 27—Frances Stein will have an exhibition of the work of her pupils at her studio on the Old Wagon Wheel road on lower Ohayo Mountain, opening Monday, Sept. 4, from 4 to 7 p. m. Mrs. Stein's pupils, who range in gaes from three to 10 years, are from Woodstock and Zena, and will show watercolors, crayon drawings and other art work.

Church School Starts

Woodstock, Aug. 28 — The Dutch Reformed Church Sunday school will start on Sunday, Sept. 9, at 10 a. m. and will continue throughout the month.

Died Saturday

JOHN W. BENTLEY

Woodstock, Aug. 28—John W. Bentley, Woodstock artist, who died suddenly in Kingston Saturday morning, was one of the vanguard of young art students who came here to study with Birge Harrison in 1909. Since that time he had been closely identified with the colony, although he had lived in Kingston since last October. The son of a prosperous silk manufacturer of Paterson, N. J., Bentley as a young man was unenthusiastic about entering the family business and instead began his studies at the Art Students League in New York, working with the late Frank V. Dumond and the late George Bridgman, famous life teacher.

Bentley, like so many of the young students who came here early in the century, occupied a number of barn loft studios. Prior to his removal to Kingston last fall, he lived for 14 years in the former Larry Elwyn home, later known as the Bandbox on the corner of Tannery Brook and Tinker street.

Bentley had been a member of the Salmagundi Club and following a trip some years ago to the South Seas, where he painted extensively, he had a one-man show of his paintings at a Fifth Avenue gallery. For two years he worked on federal art projects.

Bentley had recently returned to Kingston from a trip visiting his sister in Pennsylvania.

Community Glee Club Sings First Concert

Woodstock, Aug. 28—An audience of about 200 enthusiastically greeted the first performance of the Woodstock Community Glee Club heard last Saturday afternoon at the Concert Dardenne in Wittenberg. As the first number on the program, Victor H. Dardenne, violinist, played Bach's Aria, a rich and sonorous composition. Dardenne stated that the work was played in the nature of dedication of his new home on the Yankee Pond road, where the concert was presented.

Dardenne also played with Clara Chichester, pianist, one of Villa-Lobos earlier works, Sonata Fantaisie, which was given a masterly reading and executed with finesse.

The Woodstock Community Glee Club, under the direction of Zelinda V. Dardenne, made an auspicious beginning singing the Beethoven Moonlight, Wagner's Spinning Wheel, Saint-Saens Spring Chorus, and Gounod's Holy Holy, which was again repeated by popular request at the close of the concert. The chorus sang with precision and displayed ample resources of expression.

For the final number Dardenne, Clara Chichester and Cynthia Eddy, cellist, presented the beautiful guileless Mendelssohn Trio in D minor. Throughout a work of joyous music, the tones seem to complement each other and were especially singing and romantic in the Andante movement.

During the buffet supper which followed the concert, members of the chorus presented Mrs. Dardenne with a silver plate on which was engraved, "Zelinda V. Dardenne, founder of the Woodstock Community Glee Club."

HOW LOVELY CAN YOU LOOK?

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 28—You'll never know how lovely you can look until you've made a visit to Mickey's for one of their permanents that give you the "pleasantly surprised" look and a more distinctive personality.

Wouldn't it be a perfect time right now for a "back-to-school" wave? One of these permanents we just spoke about? Why not make your classmates and teachers sit up and take notice? Before you go back to classes, be sure to make an appointment at Mickey's.

CHOOSE OTHER NAME

A reader explains: "I've just recently been divorced. At work I'm calling myself what I always have in the office, which is my maiden name. But according to your book I should now prefix my maiden name to my ex-husband's last name for all social purposes. That would make me Mrs. Black Cole. Oh no, Mrs. Post!

Answer: Your situation is not unusual. The answer is for you to go back as far as necessary in your own family for a name more becoming to Cole—perhaps your mother's maiden name.

Marked Wedding Gifts

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the best plan about having wedding gifts marked? In case of exchange this might be a serious handicap. But when a gifts needs marking to complete it, is it proper to send it without and expect the bride to attend to this herself? In the event the gift is sent out of town she would hardly be able to take it back for marking. So what?

Answer: If you know that the gift of silver is of the pattern she has chosen, then have it marked by all means. Otherwise it is best not to mark it.

Postponed Date

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter's wedding had to be postponed suddenly until this fall. The invitations had been sent out. Now what we'd like to know is whether we have to go to the expense of having new ones made and if not how would we let everyone know?

Answer: Since the engraved invitations were sent out, you can now send the plainest little printed cards merely announcing the new date.

Who Served First?

Dear Mrs. Post: The graduating class gave a lunch prepared by the girls in the home economics department, and had the teachers, the principal of the school and the clergyman. Who should have been served first?

Answer: The lady who sat on the right of the principal.

At Reception Sunday

Conley-Suski Nuptials Are Solemnized In St. Mary's Church Sunday Afternoon

St. Mary's Church set the scene Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Anne Marjorie Suski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Suski, 389 First avenue, this city to George Conley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Conley, 225 Partition street, Saugerties. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor of that parish.

Theodore Riccobono of Bloomington was organist, and Miss Barbara Bruck sang Ave Maria.

Mr. Suski gave his daughter in marriage. She was dressed in a gown of white organdy over satin, made with rosepoint lace inserts in the bodice and skirt. It was cut with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves trimmed with rosepoint lace, and a full-length train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Suski of 389 First avenue, as her sister's honor attendant, wore a moss green gown and bolero over a white lace bodice, with a skirt of net over satin. Her costume was completed with a matching picture hat and a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Serving as bridesmaids were the Misses Anna Volynskie of 11 West Union street, and Joan Deyo of Delaware avenue. Their gowns were made identical to that of the maid of honor, and they carried bouquets of yellow roses. Miss Volynskie was dressed in turquoise blue and Miss Deyo in old rose.

Elizabeth Pirigyi, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a yellow organdy gown with a matching picture hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

The groom's brother-in-law, Capt. Martin Petersen of Leesburgh, Va. served as best man. Ushers were Charles Brown of 225 Partition street, Saugerties, and John Suski, 389 First avenue, brother of the bride.

A reception for approximately 90 guests followed the ceremony. It was held at Roseland Restaurant, Washington avenue, this city.

On their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Conley will visit Lake George, upper New York and Canada. The bride selected a navy blue dress for traveling, with white accessories and a red rose corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in Saugerties.

Mrs. Conley is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of '50, and is an employe of the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen. Mr. Conley attended Saugerties High School, and is employed by the Martin Cantine Co., that village.

USE FRIGERATOR BAG ON PICNICS

KEEP LABOR DAY picnic foods chilled in insulated "frigerator" bags.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We had tangy bottled soft drinks ice box cold on a picnic last week. We kept them chilled in one of those big insulated frigerator bags (about 22¼ by 14¼ inches) you can get in super markets. They are good for taking home frozen foods, too, and can be re-used many times. A slip-on metal handle makes it easy to seal and carry them.

For the Labor Day picnic, try these seaside buns. Also the mountain picnic salad. Chill and carry in one of the practical frigerator bags.

Seaside Buns
(6-8 sandwiches)

Oen-quarter cup mayonnaise, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 eggs, hard-cooked, ½ cup canned mackerel, drained, ¼ cup minced green pepper, ½ cup chopped celery, 6-8 frankfurter rolls, salad greens.

Blend mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice; stir in mashed hard-cooked egg yolks and minced egg whites; add mackerel green pepper and celery. Line split frankfurter rolls with salad greens and fill with mixture. (Makes about 1½ cups filling). Chill filled rolls; then wrap individually for carrying.

Mountain Picnic Salad
(Serves 6-8)

Six medium size potatoes, 5 frankfurters, 1 box lima beans, 2/3 cup diced celery, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon thyme, ⅛ teaspoon marjoram, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, salad greens.

Cook potatoes in jackets; cool, peel and dice. Parboil frankfurters; cool and slice. Cook lima beans according to directions on package; cool. Combine potatoes, frankfurters, lima beans, celery and onion. Blend mayonnaise with vinegar and spices and fold into salad mixture. Chill well before packing in insulated frigerator bag for carrying.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Honeydew melon, scrambled eggs and fried tomato rings, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Seaside buns, mountain picnic salad, chocolate brownies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Boiled tongue, tomato-horseradish sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, celery and raw carrot sticks, peach upside-down cake, cream, coffee, milk.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

In the Wednesday, August 22 issue of The Freeman there was a good picture of DeCosta Dawson, Jr., playing the organ. This 16-year-old youngster is to give a serious organ recital at a Waterbury, Conn. church. He is a member of the Kingston High School's A Cappella Choir and takes organ lessons from Miss Edna Merrihew of Kingston. I hardly recognize this tall youth, for I remember, a very life, sturdy little fellow about seven years ago when I used to conduct the Children's Party Hour on the local radio station Saturday mornings. DeCosta Dawson was my star entertainer.

We had a little organ in the studio, at that time at the Governor Clinton Hotel, and he was in love with that organ. He was just about as tall as that little organ, and his feet hardly touched the pedals. I had to stand against the back of the chair so he would not slide away. But could he play! He could make that organ cry, sing and beg, and most of it he played by ear. But he could also read music. His only trouble was that he wanted to play the organ all the time and sit right by it. Once he played Onward Christian Soldiers four times through before I could stop him. I had to pick his wrists up off the organ. The musical talent was there alright; he had a swing and sway that really "sent you." I am very glad that he is continuing his hobby as a serious vocation. I would love to hear him play now. Usually on kid shows you can spot talent, but often it is wasted in later years.

For kid shows, it is always difficult to find piano players who can transpose, for some youngsters have very low voices and others high voices, and some change right in the middle of a song. I let one of the little girls play for the others, and immediately noticed she could transpose in any key any song. Natural born talent, so I let her play throughout the whole morning show. She was around 10 at the time, I think. Then I found her weeping. She had come to sing and not to play. So I promised her faithfully that next Saturday's show she would be first on the program. I don't know what she is doing with her natural born talent right now, but her name is Irene Reina, so we should hear from her real soon.

Art is the same way. You can spot it in a minute. I once asked a boy to carve a cat out of soap. The others did it very carefully with carbon paper tracings. Not he. He zoomed around the soap with a sharp knife and turned out a smooth, modern looking satisfied cat in perfect proportion. Last time I heard about Ed, he was taking a G.I. course at the Art Students League in New York. His brother Teddy Wehye not only could draw but also is an excellent carpenter and he is with the Museum in Albany. His wife is Honey Modica from Kingston, who used to sing for the boys at Castle Point Veterans Hospital. The other day, on the corner of Meadow and Broadway, I saw a youngster fix a broken, homemade scooter wagon with a stone and crooked nails. Not a motion was lost. Someday, he too, will make a good carpenter.

Mother, Son Suicide

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—An 81-year-old woman and her 49-year-old son were found dead of carbon monoxide in their parked automobile early today, and police said the case apparently was a double suicide. The victims were tentatively identified as Mrs. Clara Manz and William Manz, both of Manhattan. They were found in an East 36th street parking lot by a patrolman who heard the auto's motor running. The victims, police said, sat side-by-side in the front seat, and a hose ran from the exhaust pipe through the trunk to the rear seat. A relative said there had been a lot of illness in the family lately.

Receives Degree

James F. Dwyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dwyer, 70 West Chestnut street, who received his bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University of Denver, Denver, Colo., at summer commencement exercises Wednesday, Aug. 22. While there, Mr. Dwyer studied finance and banking.

Miss Joan Hanley To Wed Mr. Kallman

New York, Aug. 27 (Special)—The marriage of Miss Joan Dale Hanley, a teacher, of RFD No. 4, Kingston, to Malcolm Kallman, of 1120 Brighton Beach avenue, Brooklyn, will take place at the City Chapel in New York tomordow. Deputy Clerk Thomas Lenane will officiate.

Miss Hanley, who was born in Kingston, is the daughter of Thomas and Helen Jordan Hanley. Mr. Kallman, who is the son of Edward and Syd Hermann Kallman, was born in New York.

The couple obtained their license to wed at the Municipal Building here today.

Explorers Rescued

Abercrave, Wales, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two expert cave explorers were safe home today after a daring rescue from deep inside the Welsh mountains where they had been trapped by a flooding underground river for three days. The explorers—Lewis Railton, 40, and William Little, 30—had been held prisoners in a high chamber, deep inside Ogof Ffyddu Cavern, since Saturday when flash floods blocked all exits and sent tons of water into the underground Byfyre river. The cavern is about 25 miles northeast of Swansea. A team of deep-sea divers plunged through black swirling waters yesterday to reach the marooned men. Then a human chain of 85 men—miners, other cave explorers and expert rescue workers—passed the two along to safety. Neither Railton nor Little was hurt.

Kurdt Is Judge

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, announced this morning that Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt will spend most of today serving as a judge at the Dutchess County Fair. Mr. Kurdt will work in the departments including vegetables, grains and grasses. McAvery stated that the Kingston Chamber is pleased to cooperate with its neighbors across the river in this way.

WCTU Unit Holds Executive Parley

County officers and directors of the Ulster WCTU held an executive session August 24 at the home of Mrs. Myron Shultis in Modena.

During the business session presided by Mrs. Lillie Shultis, county president, plans were made for the annual county convention to be held in a Kingston church September 21.

(Official Report)

The following points of business were discussed:

Late closing of Ulster's drinking places tends to draw across the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie those who would carouse some more and seek in Ulster the liquor that Dutchess county's earlier closing denies. This means that protests must be lodged with proper authorities. How to bring conditions that need correction to the attention of legislators and officials was discussed and veterans in the WCTU ranks gave instructions to those who are newer members.

The women are interested in parliamentary law. As a result of studies in this subject, a skit will be presented at the September convention to throw interesting light on the subject. And a musical number will break down resistance when a call for new subscribers to the Union Signal, the national WCTU organ, is issued.

Another attraction will be a review of the national convention held in Biston.

It was announced at the county meeting that the county president will be sent to the state convention when it meets in Buffalo during October. Many local presidents also plan to attend. At that convention Ulster will be reported as a fruitful county.

In spite of deaths and removals, the number of names on the rolls of most of the unions have increased. An intensive drive to gain new members has been in operation on a national scale.

Name Omitted

A spokesman for the Kingston Patrolmen's Association said today that the name of Officer Walter Fitzgerald, was inadvertently omitted from the program for the annual police baseball game tomorrow. Officer Fitzgerald wears badge No. 5 on the force.

Answer: Your situation is not unusual. The answer is for you to go back as far as necessary in your own family for a name more becoming to Cole—perhaps your mother's maiden name.

Marked Wedding Gifts

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the best plan about having wedding gifts marked? In case of exchange this might be a serious handicap. But when a gifts needs marking to complete it, is it proper to send it without and expect the bride to attend to this herself? In the event the gift is sent out of town she would hardly be able to take it back for marking. So what?

Answer: If you know that the gift of silver is of the pattern she has chosen, then have it marked by all means. Otherwise it is best not to mark it.

Postponed Date

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter's wedding had to be postponed suddenly until this fall. The invitations had been sent out. Now what we'd like to know is whether we have to go to the expense of having new ones made and if not how would we let everyone know?

Answer: Since the engraved invitations were sent out, you can now send the plainest little printed cards merely announcing the new date.

Who Served First?

Dear Mrs. Post: The graduating class gave a lunch prepared by the girls in the home economics department, and had the teachers, the principal of the school and the clergyman. Who should have been served first?

Answer: The lady who sat on the right of the principal.

At Reception Sunday

Conley-Suski Nuptials Are Solemnized In St. Mary's Church Sunday Afternoon

St. Mary's Church set the scene Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Anne Marjorie Suski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Suski, 389 First avenue, this city to George Conley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Conley, 225 Partition street, Saugerties. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor of that parish.

Theodore Riccobono of Bloomington was organist, and Miss Barbara Bruck sang Ave Maria.

Mr. Suski gave his daughter in marriage. She was dressed in a gown of white organdy over satin, made with rosepoint lace inserts in the bodice and skirt. It was cut with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves trimmed with rosepoint lace, and a full-length train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Suski of 389 First avenue, as her sister's honor attendant, wore a moss green gown and bolero over a white lace bodice, with a skirt of net over satin. Her costume was completed with a matching picture hat and a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Serving as bridesmaids were the Misses Anna Volynskie of 11 West Union street, and Joan Deyo of Delaware avenue. Their gowns were made identical to that of the maid of honor, and they carried bouquets of yellow roses. Miss Volynskie was dressed in turquoise blue and Miss Deyo in old rose.

Elizabeth Pirigyi, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a yellow organdy gown with a matching picture hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

The groom's brother-in-law, Capt. Martin Petersen of Leesburgh, Va. served as best man. Ushers were Charles Brown of 225 Partition street, Saugerties, and John Suski, 389 First avenue, brother of the bride.

A reception for approximately 90 guests followed the ceremony. It was held at Roseland Restaurant, Washington avenue, this city.

On their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Conley will visit Lake George, upper New York and Canada. The bride selected a navy blue dress for traveling, with white accessories and a red rose corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in Saugerties.

Mrs. Conley is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of '50, and is an employe of the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen. Mr. Conley attended Saugerties High School, and is employed by the Martin Cantine Co., that village.

USE FRIGERATOR BAG ON PICNICS

KEEP LABOR DAY picnic foods chilled in insulated "frigerator" bags.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We had tangy bottled soft drinks ice box cold on a picnic last week. We kept them chilled in one of those big insulated frigerator bags (about 22¼ by 14¼ inches) you can get in super markets. They are good for taking home frozen foods, too, and can be re-used many times. A slip-on metal handle makes it easy to seal and carry them.

For the Labor Day picnic, try these seaside buns. Also the mountain picnic salad. Chill and carry in one of the practical frigerator bags.

Seaside Buns
(6-8 sandwiches)

Oen-quarter cup mayonnaise, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 eggs, hard-cooked, ½ cup canned mackerel, drained, ¼ cup minced green pepper, ½ cup chopped celery, 6-8 frankfurter rolls, salad greens.

Blend mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice; stir in mashed hard-cooked egg yolks and minced egg whites; add mackerel green pepper and celery. Line split frankfurter rolls with salad greens and fill with mixture. (Makes about 1½ cups filling). Chill filled rolls; then wrap individually for carrying.

Mountain Picnic Salad
(Serves 6-8)

Six medium size potatoes, 5 frankfurters, 1 box lima beans, 2/3 cup diced celery, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon thyme, ⅛ teaspoon marjoram, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, salad greens.

Cook potatoes in jackets; cool, peel and dice. Parboil frankfurters; cool and slice. Cook lima beans according to directions on package; cool. Combine potatoes, frankfurters, lima beans, celery and onion. Blend mayonnaise with vinegar and spices and fold into salad mixture. Chill well before packing in insulated frigerator bag for carrying.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Honeydew melon, scrambled eggs and fried tomato rings, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Seaside buns, mountain picnic salad, chocolate brownies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Boiled tongue, tomato-horseradish sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, celery and raw carrot sticks, peach upside-down cake, cream, coffee, milk.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

In the Wednesday, August 22 issue of The Freeman there was a good picture of DeCosta Dawson, Jr., playing the organ. This 16-year-old youngster is to give a serious organ recital at a Waterbury, Conn. church. He is a member of the Kingston High School's A Cappella Choir and takes organ lessons from Miss Edna Merrihew of Kingston. I hardly recognize this tall youth, for I remember, a very life, sturdy little fellow about seven years ago when I used to conduct the Children's Party Hour on the local radio station Saturday mornings. DeCosta Dawson was my star entertainer.

We had a little organ in the studio, at that time at the Governor Clinton Hotel, and he was in love with that organ. He was just about as tall as that little organ, and his feet hardly touched the pedals. I had to stand against the back of the chair so he would not slide away. But could he play! He could make that organ cry, sing and beg, and most of it he played by ear. But he could also read music. His only trouble was that he wanted to play the organ all the time and sit right by it. Once he played Onward Christian Soldiers four times through before I could stop him. I had to pick his wrists up off the organ. The musical talent was there alright; he had a swing and sway that really "sent you." I am very glad that he is continuing his hobby as a serious vocation. I would love to hear him play now. Usually on kid shows you can spot talent, but often it is wasted in later years.

For kid shows, it is always difficult to find piano players who can transpose, for some youngsters have very low voices and others high voices, and some change right in the middle of a song. I let one of the little girls play for the others, and immediately noticed she could transpose in any key any song. Natural born talent, so I let her play throughout the whole morning show. She was around 10 at the time, I think. Then I found her weeping. She had come to sing and not to play. So I promised her faithfully that next Saturday's show she would be first on the program. I don't know what she is doing with her natural born talent right now, but her name is Irene Reina, so we should hear from her real soon.

Art is the same way. You can spot it in a minute. I once asked a boy to carve a cat out of soap. The others did it very carefully with carbon paper tracings. Not he. He zoomed around the soap with a sharp knife and turned out a smooth, modern looking satisfied cat in perfect proportion. Last time I heard about Ed, he was taking a G.I. course at the Art Students League in New York. His brother Teddy Wehye not only could draw but also is an excellent carpenter and he is with the Museum in Albany. His wife is Honey Modica from Kingston, who used to sing for the boys at Castle Point Veterans Hospital. The other day, on the corner of Meadow and Broadway, I saw a youngster fix a broken, homemade scooter wagon with a stone and crooked nails. Not a motion was lost. Someday, he too, will make a good carpenter.

Mother, Son Suicide

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—An 81-year-old woman and her 49-year-old son were found dead of carbon monoxide in their parked automobile early today, and police said the case apparently was a double suicide. The victims were tentatively identified as Mrs. Clara Manz and William Manz, both of Manhattan. They were found in an East 36th street parking lot by a patrolman who heard the auto's motor running. The victims, police said, sat side-by-side in the front seat, and a hose ran from the exhaust pipe through the trunk to the rear seat. A relative said there had been a lot of illness in the family lately.

Miss Joan Hanley To Wed Mr. Kallman

New York, Aug. 27 (Special)—The marriage of Miss Joan Dale Hanley, a teacher, of RFD No. 4, Kingston, to Malcolm Kallman, of 1120 Brighton Beach avenue, Brooklyn, will take place at the City Chapel in New York tomorrow. Deputy Clerk Thomas Lenane will officiate.

Miss Hanley, who was born in Kingston, is the daughter of Thomas and Helen Jordan Hanley. Mr. Kallman, who is the son of Edward and Syd Hermann Kallman, was born in New York.

The couple obtained their license to wed at the Municipal Building here today.

Explorers Rescued

Abercrave, Wales, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two expert cave explorers were safe home today after a daring rescue from deep inside the Welsh mountains where they had been trapped by a flooding underground river for three days. The explorers—Lewis Railton, 40, and William Little, 30—had been held prisoners in a high chamber, deep inside Ogof Ffyddu Cavern, since Saturday when flash floods blocked all exits and sent tons of water into the underground Byfyre river. The cavern is about 25 miles northeast of Swansea. A team of deep-sea divers plunged through black swirling waters yesterday to reach the marooned men. Then a human chain of 85 men—miners, other cave explorers and expert rescue workers—passed the two along to safety. Neither Railton nor Little was hurt.

Kurdt Is Judge

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, announced this morning that Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt will spend most of today serving as a judge at the Dutchess County Fair. Mr. Kurdt will work in the departments including vegetables, grains and grasses. McAvery stated that the Kingston Chamber is pleased to cooperate with its neighbors across the river in this way.

WCTU Unit Holds Executive Parley

County officers and directors of the Ulster WCTU held an executive session August 24 at the home of Mrs. Myron Shultis in Modena.

During the business session presided by Mrs. Lillie Shultis, county president, plans were made for the annual county convention to be held in a Kingston church September 21.

(Official Report)

The following points of business were discussed:

Late closing of Ulster's drinking places tends to draw across the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie those who would carouse some more and seek in Ulster the liquor that Dutchess county's earlier closing denies. This means that protests must be lodged with proper authorities. How to bring conditions that need correction to the attention of legislators and officials was discussed and veterans in the WCTU ranks gave instructions to those who are newer members.

The women are interested in parliamentary law. As a result of studies in this subject, a skit will be presented at the September convention to throw interesting light on the subject. And a musical number will break down resistance when a call for new subscribers to the Union Signal, the national WCTU organ, is issued.

Another attraction will be a review of the national convention held in Biston.

It was announced at the county meeting that the county president will be sent to the state convention when it meets in Buffalo during October. Many local presidents also plan to attend. At that convention Ulster will be reported as a fruitful county.

In spite of deaths and removals, the number of names on the rolls of most of the unions have increased. An intensive drive to gain new members has been in operation on a national scale.

Name Omitted

A spokesman for the Kingston Patrolmen's Association said today that the name of Officer Walter Fitzgerald, was inadvertently omitted from the program for the annual police baseball game tomorrow. Officer Fitzgerald wears badge No. 5 on the force.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bidding Often Gives Key Clue to Cards

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Sherlock Holmes once solved a mystery from the fact that a dog failed to bark. Bridge players do this all the time, as today's hand shows.

West led the deuce of spades, dummy put up the ten, and East won with the jack. East continued with the ace of spades and then with the king. South ruffed the third round of spades, drew two rounds of trumps, and finessed the queen of diamonds.

East won with the king of diamonds and got out safely with a low diamond, whereupon South made the rest of the tricks without the slightest trouble. Do you think South should have had trouble with the clubs? That's because you've forgotten about the dog that failed to bark.

The opening lead showed that West had four spades. The play to the first three tricks showed that East had the ace-king-jack of spades. East later showed up with the king of diamonds. Yet East failed to open the bidding. Is it possible that East would have passed if he also held three or four clubs headed by the queen.

The dog would have barked if he had held the queen of clubs. Therefore it was clear that West had the queen of clubs.

South therefore began the clubs

by leading the jack through West. If West ducked, South was determined to let the jack ride. If West covered with the queen of clubs, declarer would win with dummy's ace and finesse through East for the ten of clubs.

This "backward finesse" is usually a very poor play. It is usually better to play East for the queen no matter where the ten is than to play West for the queen and East for the ten. But when you know definitely where the queen is, the backward finesse becomes the only hope.

As Pegler Sees It

veto teaching contrary to its own politics.

But "democracy" has been taught more and more boldly and the meaning of this thing has been widened until now it is, with little concealment, hammered into the young as a religion, a faith. All other faiths or religions are heresies.

I quoted recently from a letter by the Rt.-Rev. Msgr. James T. McNamara, rector of the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, in Savannah referring to the deification of democracy. Democrary being the rule of the majority, then the majority must be right and therefore democracy perfect. Therefore why not teach it boldly, belligerently as a religion?

On this subject I refer to an article in the Little Saturday Review of Literature, a strange thing whose essays often are too muddy for comprehension. In a recent number one H. M. Kallen, of the notorious new school for social research, carried on weirdly about this new state religion. The new school has had many adventures which should put us on the alert in reading its proposals but the sly part that it played in making it possible for Hanns Eisler, the anti-American Communist, to stay in this country is a flagrant performance in its cloudy record. Misrepresentations were made in the school's statements for the sole purpose of permitting him to get around the law.

The new school people sometimes sound inarticulate or superintellectual when they are actually pioneering.

Kallen speaks of "the democratic faith" and, after a few inches of ideological swerve or double-talk we find him speaking of "the religion of democracy."

Now he is saying "for the communicants of the democratic faith it is the religion of and for religions . . ."

And "democracy is the method by which hitherto inflexible and unadjustable infallibilities may adjust to one another and live together as a communion of the different on equal terms. Democracy as such a way of life, science as such a way of thought, have so worked that belief attributes to them powers of salvation from fear and want, from bondage to nature, to men and to creeds—"

And, "the religion of science and democracy is no less a religion than any other."

And this is the only religion that may be taught, the only religion that is being taught in the public schools.

It is no reflection on the intelligence of those Americans who are old-fashioned party Democrats to say that all this is news to them. They are still thinking in terms of political jobs.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP) —The New Haven Railroad today reported a deficit of $184,095 from rail operations after sinking funds for the month of July. For the same period last year, the railroad reported a net income of $206,552.

Contractor Asks $50,000 in Suit

Ellenville, Aug. 28—Richard M. Scraggs, Ellenville contractor, well known for his columns in the Ellenville Press when that paper was owned and edited by Irving McNally, has filed suit against the Ellenville Press, its present publishers, the Donnel Publishing Company, and its present editor, Harry M. Thayer, for $50,000 on grounds of libel.

Papers were served on Thayer by the sheriff's office last week.

The suit for libel will be heard in Ulster county Supreme Court and alleges that Scraggs suffered financially from articles which appeared in the Press after it was taken over by the present owners and editor about a year ago. Scraggs claims he has been damaged financially by articles dealing with the school swimming pool which appeared in the paper beginning August of last year.

The controversy arises over the construction of the public swimming pool which Scraggs supervised for the board of education for about a year.

At a special meeting of the residents of School District No. 29, held August 24, 1950, a seven-man advisory committee, of which Harry M. Thayer was chairman, was named to complete the work and additional funds were sought. This committee was to work with the board and the services of Scraggs were terminated.

It was at this time that the article of which Mr. Scraggs complains, appeared in the Press.

Thayer had taken over the Press from Irving T. McNally about a month before the alleged libel. Previous to that, Scraggs had been writing for the paper as a columnist, writing as the "Observer." Scraggs asked $50,000 damages with interest.

by leading the jack through West. If West ducked, South was determined to let the jack ride. If West covered with the queen of clubs, declarer would win with dummy's ace and finesse through East for the ten of clubs.

This "backward finesse" is usually a very poor play. It is usually better to play East for the queen no matter where the ten is than to play West for the queen and East for the ten. But when you know definitely where the queen is, the backward finesse becomes the only hope.

As Pegler Sees It

veto teaching contrary to its own politics.

But "democracy" has been taught more and more boldly and the meaning of this thing has been widened until now it is, with little concealment, hammered into the young as a religion, a faith. All other faiths or religions are heresies.

I quoted recently from a letter by the Rt.-Rev. Msgr. James T. McNamara, rector of the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, in Savannah referring to the deification of democracy. Democrary being the rule of the majority, then the majority must be right and therefore democracy perfect. Therefore why not teach it boldly, belligerently as a religion?

On this subject I refer to an article in the Little Saturday Review of Literature, a strange thing whose essays often are too muddy for comprehension. In a recent number one H. M. Kallen, of the notorious new school for social research, carried on weirdly about this new state religion. The new school has had many adventures which should put us on the alert in reading its proposals but the sly part that it played in making it possible for Hanns Eisler, the anti-American Communist, to stay in this country is a flagrant performance in its cloudy record. Misrepresentations were made in the school's statements for the sole purpose of permitting him to get around the law.

The new school people sometimes sound inarticulate or superintellectual when they are actually pioneering.

Kallen speaks of "the democratic faith" and, after a few inches of ideological swerve or double-talk we find him speaking of "the religion of democracy."

Now he is saying "for the communicants of the democratic faith it is the religion of and for religions . . ."

And "democracy is the method by which hitherto inflexible and unadjustable infallibilities may adjust to one another and live together as a communion of the different on equal terms. Democracy as such a way of life, science as such a way of thought, have so worked that belief attributes to them powers of salvation from fear and want, from bondage to nature, to men and to creeds—"

And, "the religion of science and democracy is no less a religion than any other."

And this is the only religion that may be taught, the only religion that is being taught in the public schools.

It is no reflection on the intelligence of those Americans who are old-fashioned party Democrats to say that all this is news to them. They are still thinking in terms of political jobs.

Railroad Deficit

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP) —The New Haven Railroad today reported a deficit of $184,095 from rail operations after sinking funds for the month of July. For the same period last year, the railroad reported a net income of $206,552.

Contractor Asks $50,000 in Suit

Ellenville, Aug. 28 — Richard M. Scraggs, Ellenville contractor, well known for his columns in the Ellenville Press when that paper was owned and edited by Irving McNally, has filed suit against the Ellenville Press, its present publishers, the Donnel Publishing Company, and its present editor, Harry M. Thayer, for $50,000 on grounds of libel.

Papers were served on Thayer by the sheriff's office last week.

The suit for libel will be heard in Ulster county Supreme Court and alleges that Scraggs suffered financially from articles which appeared in the Press after it was taken over by the present owners and editor about a year ago. Scraggs claims he has been damaged financially by articles dealing with the school swimming pool which appeared in the paper beginning August of last year.

The controversy arises over the construction of the public swimming pool which Scraggs supervised for the board of education for about a year.

At a special meeting of the residents of School District No. 29, held August 24, 1950, a seven-man advisory committee, of which Harry M. Thayer was chairman, was named to complete the work and additional funds were sought. This committee was to work with the board and the services of Scraggs were terminated.

It was at this time that the article of which Mr. Scraggs complains, appeared in the Press.

Thayer had taken over the Press from Irving T. McNally about a month before the alleged libel. Previous to that, Scraggs had been writing for the paper as a columnist, writing as the "Observer." Scraggs asked $50,000 damages with interest.

Whitey Ford, Pine, Van Buren and Ellsworth Are Starting Pitchers

The posting of starting lineups and batting orders today completed the salient preliminaries for the Kingston Patrolmen's Association baseball extravaganza Wednesday night at municipal stadium.

Ed Whitey Ford, sensational New York Yankee rookie southpaw of 1950, will pitch for Tommy Maines' All Stars in the second game of the doubleheader.

Manager Leonard Ellsworth will start for the Kingston Police nine in the opener against veteran Dewey Van Buren of Cordts Hose.

Manager Johnny Gentile of the powerful Long Island Greys has nominated Ken Pine, a control artist who blanked the Bushwicks, 1-0 on one hit, as the starter for the Greys against Ford.

The Police-Cordts contest will get under way at 7 p. m.

Huge Crowd Expected

The advance sale of tickets and the tremendous interest in Whitey Ford's appearance indicates one of the largest baseball turnouts in recent years.

Former Kingston Recreation favorites like Johnny Gentile, Frankie Bambara, Steve Ristau and Bill Shelley will be with the Greys, one of the most powerful semi-pro clubs in the Eastern sector of the country.

Manager Tommy Maines' 15-man roster culled primarily from City League teams features Bill Olen as the man who will hold up Ford's slants. Joe Benjamin will be the reserve catcher.

Other players named on the Maines roster include Johnny Schatzel, George Glaser, Ronnie and Bud Scheffel, Gus Koch, Joe Norton, Charlie Neff, Mike Rienzo, Bob Graves and Tom Carlino.

Two tried and tested flingers—Bullet Bill Tierney and Tommy Fisher — are available to relieve Ford in the seventh inning.

Ford has guaranteed to pitch seven innings.

Van Buren Starts

Cordts Hose's starting lineup includes James Noble, Charlie Bock, Ray Lindhurst, Hank Krum, Bill Bruck, Gil Williams, Larry Woerner, Eddie Schussler and Dewey Van Buren.

The Cordts reserve roster includes Fink McElrath, Clayton Bruck, Jake Senor, John Reynolds, Herb McElrath and Ronald Krom, batboy.

Members of the Cordts Hose squad have been requested to report to municipal stadium no later than 6:30 p. m.

The rival managers—Ray Radel, of Cordts and Leonard Ellsworth —oozed confidence today.

Said Ellsworth:

"We have only ten men on the roster. How many does it take to play a ball game. They have the quantity; we have the quality.."

Radel's rebuttal: "I have all the confidence in the world that our team will win without a struggle. Ellsworth and Dougherty have been steady customers at an uptown drugstore, loading down rubbing alcohol. They'll need it."

Gloversville Glovers Capture Series Opener From Colonials, 12 to 4

Next to Last Home Contest Slated Tonight

Coleman Retains Jinx Over Locals

If the Colonials had half of the firing power Col. Frank W. Harkin's 156th Field Artillery crew unloaded in their spectacular demonstration last night at municipal stadium, the matter of whipping Al Barillari's Gloversville Glovers would have been a relatively simple matter.

Alas, Manager Johnny Sosh's tossers experienced their usual bad Monday night with the makeshift lineup and the Glovers breezed to an easy 12 to 4 triumph behind veteran Guy Coleman who has made a career of beating Kingston teams at the stadium.

Tonight's fracas between the two clubs will be the next to the last home appearance this season for the Colonials. The season closes out on Sunday, Sept. 2, against the Pittsfield Electrics.

Get Bad Start

Thanks to nine hits off a wobbly Charlie Ayers and a collapsible Colonial defense, the Glovers picked up where the 156th FA battalion left off. They poured eight runs across the plate in three frames to lead 8 to 1.

Ayers was wobbly but four Colonial miscues weren't calculated to ease his task any. The hard plugging right hander then settled down for a brilliant five-inning stint in which he permitted only one hit. He lost control in the ninth and had to be relieved by Charlie Borden.

The Colonial's only real stand against Coleman occurred in the sixth when two errors by Pedro and a walk loaded the bases with two out. Dave Ocarr slapped a two-run single, Rick Ostrander walked and Bill O'Brien knocked in the third run with a single to center. Further damage might have resulted had Ostrander not been caught off second base on the relay from the outfield.

White Plains Wins

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—White Plains, N. Y., defeated Pittsfield, Mass., 5-0 last night in American Legion Junior baseball sectional play. In a second game, Bunker Hill Post of Washinton, also trimmed Pittsfield 7-1. The pair of losses eliminated Pittsfield from a chance to play in the Legion finals at Detroit. White Plains and Washington meet today.

Newark, N. J.—Al Wilson, 147, Englewood, N. J., outpointed Bobby Lloyd, 145, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 8.

Osox's Uhaze Burns Up Loop

(By The Associated Press)

George Uhaze is one of the big reasons why the Oneonta Red Sox are on the verge of clinching the Canadian-American League flag.

The stylish righthander notched his 16th win in 19 decisions last night when he blanked Amsterdam, 9-0, on three hits. It was his sixth shutout of the campaign.

Second-place Pittsfield kept pace with the loop leaders by edging Rome, 6-5, and Gloversville feasted on Kingston, 12-4.

At Amsterdam, Uhaze hurled perfect baseball after giving up a double in the first inning and two singles in the second.

After the second inning, the only Rugger to reach base got aboard on an error, and was erased by a double play.

Uhaze issued only one pass.

Most of the fireworks at Pittsfield were touched off in the early rounds. The Colonels rocketed into a 5-0 lead on a four-run burst in the second inning, but in the lower half of the frame the Electrics exploded for five and knotted the count.

Tom Caliento, Pittsfield left fielder who singled home two runs in the big rally, knocked in the deciding tally in the fourth with a single.

At Kingston, the Glovers got the jump with four in the first on four singles, a walk and two Kingston misplays. The Colonials were charged with six errors.

Part of Large Crowd of Small Fry at Fishing Rodeo

Spike Turck of Hasbrouck Park, who hooked a six-ounce bullhead, and Eloise Swart of Block Park and Betty Buntz of St. Mary's, both with sunfish takes of four ounces, were the joint winners in the second annual Better Fishing Rodeo held Monday at Chick Miller's Dock in Eddyville.

More than 225 eager youngsters cast lines in search of big hauls and prizes from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Many fish were caught, most of them sunfish, with a sprinkling of rock bass and yellow perch. A recess was called at noon so that the contestants could enjoy hot dogs and pop.

An enjoyable day was had by all, with the youngsters being transported directly from the parks to the fishing site by the Mountain View Coach Service and returned to the parks at the conclusion of the rodeo.

The contest was made possible by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk in cooperation with Better Fishing, Inc. Transportation and refreshments were furnished by "Bub" Merrinew of Mountain View, Bob Gross of Kingston Buick and Bev Anderson of Chevrolet

Final Game Set For Thursday

Wiltwyck Motors punctured Boulevard Gulf's hopes for a straight set victory in the "B" series of the City League Shaughnessy playoff yesterday, by blasting Bullet Bill Tierney and the Oilmen, 8 to 2, at the Athletic Field.

The third and final game of the series will be played on Thursday evening.

Wednesday's scheduled contest has been postponed in deference to the police doubleheader at municipal stadium and the Motormen have a commitment in the Poughkeepsie Twilight League this evening.

While southpaw Don McClelland was restricting the Gulfmen to six scattered hits, the Motormen unloaded a mild blitz on Tierney with five runs in the first inning.

Tierney didn't have it last night and five Wiltwyck hits and a pair of Boulevard errors accounted for the five Wiltwyck tallies. Al Vogt pitched the fourth inning and Mike Rienzo the fifth for the losers.

If Tierney can win Thursday night, he will have a long pull in the finals against the red-hot Jones Dairy squad.

MESSINGERS MEMOS:

The Passante brothers teamed up for five of the 11 hits off the assorted Gulf twirlers. Johnny Minadeo made a great running catch on George Magley to open the third inning. The Gulfmen made so many changes in the final two innings it looked like a preview of the Notre Dame football squad. Just one more vote for the most aggressive player in the league—Gus Koch. The final game of the "B" series will be played Thursday evening unless rain makes a postponement necessary, in which case it will be played Tuesday, Sept. 4. No game will be played on Labor Day.

Commercial Meeting

The Commercial Bowling League will hold an organization meeting at the Bowlatorium tonight at 8 o'clock. All teams interested are invited to attend.

Clock to Stop Arguments

Calgary (AP)—Calgary stampede officials have ordered a special four-foot stop clock to save arguments at future stampedes. They say the clock, visible to rodeo contestants and audience alike, will save a lot of disputes about timing of stampede events. It is not unusual to have as many as a dozen stop watches operating at once during rodeo events and often none of the times agree with the official timekeeper. The specially-ordered electric clock is controlled by a button operated by the timekeeper. It will be wired to sound the 10-second horn.

Marciano Scores 32nd Knockout

He made Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., his latest victim by flattening the rolypoly battler at 50 seconds in the fourth of their scheduled 10-round bout before 9,523 last night at the Boston Garden.

At 196, Beshore had an eight and one-half pounds advantage on Marciano. But the hard-punching Brocktonite had all the other assets. After three tame rounds, in which Marciano missed frequently, he finally got going against his almost stationary target.

Coughlin Delivers Winning Safety

Beichert's, champions of the City Softball League, came up with two late rallies to edge the powerful Newburgh Studies, 5 to 4, in an inter-city softball clash on Friday at Hasbrouck Park.

Veteran Form Coughlin's single over third scoring Sonny Woods delivered the winning run for Beichert's with two outs in the bottom of the seventh.

Beichert's had rallied with two runs in the sixth to square the count at 4-4 on solid basehits by Bob Graves, Walt Matheus and Billy Smith.

Danny Basch, Beichert (flinger) got off to a wobbly start, yielding three walks and a single and uncorking a wild pitch to enable the fleet Hill City tossers to rack up a 3-0 lead. He settled down to pitch scoreless ball until the sixth and permitted only five hits. The locals got seven hits off Doyle, who fanned three.

A return game will be played in the near future in Newburgh.

Whitey Ford, Pine, Van Buren and Ellsworth Are Starting Pitchers

The posting of starting lineups and batting orders today completed the salient preliminaries for the Kingston Patrolmen's Association baseball extravaganza Wednesday night at municipal stadium.

Ed Whitey Ford, sensational New York Yankee rookie southpaw of 1950, will pitch for Tommy Maines' All Stars in the second game of the doubleheader.

Manager Leonard Ellsworth will start for the Kingston Police nine in the opener against veteran Dewey Van Buren of Cordts Hose.

Manager Johnny Gentile of the powerful Long Island Greys has nominated Ken Pine, a control artist who blanked the Bushwicks, 1-0 on one hit, as the starter for the Greys against Ford.

The Police-Cordts contest will get under way at 7 p. m.

Huge Crowd Expected

The advance sale of tickets and the tremendous interest in Whitey Ford's appearance indicates one of the largest baseball turnouts in recent years.

Former Kingston Recreation favorites like Johnny Gentile, Frankie Bambara, Steve Ristau and Bill Shelley will be with the Greys, one of the most powerful semi-pro clubs in the Eastern sector of the country.

Manager Tommy Maines' 15-man roster culled primarily from City League teams features Bill Olen as the man who will hold up Ford's slants. Joe Benjamin will be the reserve catcher.

Other players named on the Maines roster include Johnny Schatzel, George Glaser, Ronnie and Bud Scheffel, Gus Koch, Joe Norton, Charlie Neff, Mike Rienzo, Bob Graves and Tom Carlino.

Two tried and tested flingers—Bullet Bill Tierney and Tommy Fisher — are available to relieve Ford in the seventh inning.

Ford has guaranteed to pitch seven innings.

Van Buren Starts

Cordts Hose's starting lineup includes James Noble, Charlie Bock, Ray Lindhurst, Hank Krum, Bill Bruck, Gil Williams, Larry Woerner, Eddie Schussler and Dewey Van Buren.

The Cordts reserve roster includes Fink McElrath, Clayton Bruck, Jake Senor, John Reynolds, Herb McElrath and Ronald Krom, batboy.

Members of the Cordts Hose squad have been requested to report to municipal stadium no later than 6:30 p. m.

The rival managers—Ray Radel, of Cordts and Leonard Ellsworth—oozed confidence today.

Said Ellsworth:

"We have only ten men on the roster. How many does it take to play a ball game. They have the quantity; we have the quality.."

Radel's rebuttal: "I have all the confidence in the world that our team will win without a struggle. Ellsworth and Dougherty have been steady customers at an uptown drugstore, loading down rubbing alcohol. They'll need it."

Gloversville Glovers Capture Series Opener From Colonials, 12 to 4

Next to Last Home Contest Slated Tonight

Coleman Retains Jinx Over Locals

If the Colonials had half of the firing power Col. Frank W. Harkin's 156th Field Artillery crew unloaded in their spectacular demonstration last night at municipal stadium, the matter of whipping Al Barillari's Gloversville Glovers would have been a relatively simple matter.

Alas, Manager Johnny Sosh's tossers experienced their usual bad Monday night with the makeshift lineup and the Glovers breezed to an easy 12 to 4 triumph behind veteran Guy Coleman who has made a career of beating Kingston teams at the stadium.

Tonight's fracas between the two clubs will be the next to the last home appearance this season for the Colonials. The season closes out on Sunday, Sept. 2, against the Pittsfield Electrics.

Get Bad Start

Thanks to nine hits off a wobbly Charlie Ayers and a collapsible Colonial defense, the Glovers picked up where the 156th FA battalion left off. They poured eight runs across the plate in three frames to lead 8 to 1.

Ayers was wobbly but four Colonial miscues weren't calculated to ease his task any. The hard plugging right hander then settled down for a brilliant five-inning stint in which he permitted only one hit. He lost control in the ninth and had to be relieved by Charlie Borden.

The Colonial's only real stand against Coleman occurred in the sixth when two errors by Pedro and a walk loaded the bases with two out. Dave Ocarr slapped a two-run single. Rick Ostrander walked and Bill O'Brien knocked in the third run with a single to center. Further damage might have resulted had Ostrander not been caught off second base on the relay from the outfield.

O'Brien spanked a couple of singles to account for one third of the Colonial hit total.

White Plains Wins

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—White Plains, N. Y., defeated Pittsfield, Mass., 5-0 last night in American Legion Junior baseball sectional play. In a second game, Bunker Hill Post of Washinton, also trimmed Pittsfield 7-1. The pair of losses eliminated Pittsfield from a chance to play in the Legion finals at Detroit. White Plains and Washington meet today.

Newark, N. J.—Al Wilson, 147, Englewood, N. J., outpointed Bobby Lloyd, 145, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 8.

Osox's Uhaze Burns Up Loop

(By The Associated Press)

George Uhaze is one of the big reasons why the Oneonta Red Sox are on the verge of clinching the Canadian-American League flag.

The stylish righthander notched his 16th win in 19 decisions last night when he blanked Amsterdam, 9-0, on three hits. It was his sixth shutout of the campaign.

Second-place Pittsfield kept pace with the loop leaders by edging Rome, 6-5, and Gloversville feasted on Kingston, 12-4.

At Amsterdam, Uhaze hurled perfect baseball after giving up a double in the first inning and two singles in the second.

After the second inning, the only Rugger to reach base got aboard on an error, and was erased by a double play.

Uhaze issued only one pass.

Most of the fireworks at Pittsfield were touched off in the early rounds. The Colonels rocketed into a 5-0 lead on a four-run burst in the second inning, but in the lower half of the frame the Electrics exploded for five and knotted the count.

Tom Caliento, Pittsfield left fielder who singled home two runs in the big rally, knocked in the deciding tally in the fourth with a single.

Dan Katulka, the Electrics' righthander, relieved starter Sterling Singley in the second and yielded four hits over the rest of the route.

At Kingston, the Glovers got the jump with four in the first on four singles, a walk and two Kingston misplays. The Colonials were charged with six errors.

Wiltwyck Motors Trip Gulfmen to Tie 'B' Series

Final Game Set For Thursday

Wiltwyck Motors punctured Boulevard Gulf's hopes for a straight set victory in the "B" series of the City League Shaughnessy playoff yesterday, by blasting Bullet Bill Tierney and the Oilmen, 8 to 2, at the Athletic Field.

The third and final game of the series will be played on Thursday evening.

Wednesday's scheduled contest has been postponed in deference to the police doubleheader at municipal stadium and the Motormen have a commitment in the Poughkeepsie Twilight League this evening.

While southpaw Don McClelland was restricting the Gulfmen to six scattered hits, the Motormen unloaded a mild blitz on Tierney with five runs in the first inning.

Tierney didn't have it last night and five Wiltwyck hits and a pair of Boulevard errors accounted for the five Wiltwyck tallies. Al Vogt pitched the fourth inning and Mike Rienzo the fifth for the losers.

If Tierney can win Thursday night, he will have a long pull in the finals against the red-hot Jones Dairy squad.

MESSINGERS MEMOS:

The Passante brothers teamed up for five of the 11 hits off the assorted Gulf twirlers. Johnny Minadeo made a great running catch on George Magley to open the third inning. The Gulfmen made so many changes in the final two innings it looked like a preview of the Notre Dame football squad. Just one more vote for the most aggressive player in the league—Gus Koch. The final game of the "B" series will be played Thursday evening unless rain makes a postponement necessary, in which case it will be played Tuesday, Sept. 4. No game will be played on Labor Day.

Clock to Stop Arguments

Calgary (AP)—Calgary stampede officials have ordered a special four-foot stop clock to save arguments at future stampedes. They say the clock, visible to rodeo contestants and audience alike, will save a lot of disputes about timing of stampede events. It is not unusual to have as many as a dozen stop watches operating at once during rodeo events and often none of the times agree with the official timekeeper. The specially-ordered electric clock is controlled by a button operated by the timekeeper. It will be wired to sound the 10-second horn.

Marciano Scores 32nd Knockout

Boston, Aug. 28 (AP)—Brockton's unbeaten Rocky Marciano today boasted a heavyweight boxing record of 32 knockout victories in 37 professional starts.

He made Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., his latest victim by flattening the rolypoly battler at 50 seconds in the fourth of their scheduled 10-round bout before 9,523 last night at the Boston Garden.

At 196, Beshore had an eight and one-half pounds advantage on Marciano. But the hard-punching Brocktonite had all the other assets. After three tame rounds, in which Marciano missed frequently, he finally got going against his almost stationary target.

Quebec — Flyweight champion Dado Marino, 117¾, Honolulu, and Fernando Gagnan, 115¾, Quebec drew, 10.

Part of Large Crowd of Small Fry at Fishing Rodeo

Spike Turck of Hasbrouck Park, who hooked a six-ounce bullhead, and Eloise Swart of Block Park and Betty Buntz of St. Mary's, both with sunfish takes of four ounces, were the joint winners in the second annual Better Fishing Rodeo held Monday at Chick Miller's Dock in Eddyville.

More than 225 eager youngsters cast lines in search of big hauls and prizes from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Many fish were caught, most of them sunfish, with a sprinkling of rock bass and yellow perch. A recess was called at noon so that the contestants could enjoy hot dogs and pop.

An enjoyable day was had by all, with the youngsters being transported directly from the parks to the fishing site by the Mountain View Coach Service and returned to the parks at the conclusion of the rodeo.

The contest was made possible by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk in cooperation with Better Fishing, Inc. Transportation and refreshments were furnished by "Bub" Merrinew of Mountain View, Bob Gross of Kingston Buick and Bev Anderson of Chevrolet

Little League Faces Possibility of Three-Way Tie

Yankees Must Win Tonight To Avoid It

Red Sox Upset Giants, 5 to 4

The Little League is confronted with the possibility of a triple tie in the second half today.

Those unpredictable Red Sox refused to quit against the favored Giants and eked out an impressive 5 to 4 victory yesterday at St. Mary's Field.

As a result of the Giants' upending, the Yankees were advanced to undisputed possession of first place, a half game ahead of the Red Sox and Giants.

Going into the final regularly scheduled game of the season this evening between the Yankees and Dodgers, the situation is this:

If the Yankees win, they will have completed a clean sweep of both halves.

If the Yankees lose, there will be a triple tie with the Yankees, Red Sox and Giants playing off the second round title.

Should the triple tie occur and any team other than the Yankees win it, that club would then play the Yankees in the final championship series. The Yankees won the first half without a defeat.

Cragan Wins Game

Willie Cragan pitched and batted the Red Sox to their stunning victory over the Giants. He permitted only six hits and crashed "3 for 3," a double and two singles to put himself near the top of the loop in batting averages.

Red Sox gained a 2-0 lead off starter Joe Reynolds in the first inning when John Woods walked Ronnie Ferraro rapped a ground rule double over the left field fence and Cragan singled to left.

Another pair of Red Sox tallies resulted in the third for a 4-0 lead when Cragan doubled to center, Dick Hornbeck was hit by a pitched ball and Tom Hallinan and Tom Cragan hit successive singles.

Giants Rally

Trailing 4-0, the Giants cut the Red Sox lead in half in the fourth via Pete Esposito's walk, Pete Blanschan's single, a double steal and Joe Hoffman's single to center.

The Giants' last ditch rally in the sixth fell one run short. Tony Amato singled to left and went to second on an error by Levy. Pete Blanschan singled Amato home, went to second on the throw-in and rode home on Joe Hoffman's rap to center.

Cragan accounted for half of the Red Sox hit total with his double and two singles. Pete Blanschan and Joe Hoffman each had two hits for the losers.

New York (AP)—Almost 14,000,000 checks are written and cashed every day in the United States, covering approximately 90 per cent of all the exchange of money. Once you cash or deposit a check to your account, machines take over, sorting, listing, endorsing or canceling in one operation. The International Business Machines Corp., builders of commercial electronic "brains", reports that one operator at a check proof machine averages 1,461 checks per hour. In one New York bank alone, an average of more than 302,000 checks are handled daily over the entire year.

Gorky-Riker Return Bout Slated Next Saturday at Auditorium

Rematch Expected to Draw Big Crowd

Ivan Gorky, the bearded one-man riot squad from Russia, and Sailor Bob Riker of the U. S. Navy at Norfolk, Va., will meet in a return grudge match, headlining Saturday night's professional wrestling card at the municipal auditorium.

The second meeting between Gorky, one of the most popular wrestlers ever to show here, and Riker is expected to equal the fierce clash of two weeks ago. The referee stopped the bout because of a cut over Sailor Bob's left eye.

The windup of that bout was one of the most sensational in local mat history, with the crowd storming around ringside threatening mayhem on Gorky for the manner in which he manhandled the sailor.

Babich on Card

Abe Coleman, the "Human Fire Plug," squares off against Mickey Cortelano, the fast-rising Italian star in a 30-minute special.

Mike Kilonis, Greek Playboy, and Ed Faieta, Italian speedster of Steubenville, Ohio, are carded in the 30-minute opener.

THE SCOREBOARD

By RALPH RODDEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no evidence of panic in Brooklyn today, but the citizens of Flatbush are growing uneasy over the exploits of Leo Durocher's surging New York Giants.

The hot shots from the banks of Harlem River have soared to within five games of the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers on the wings of a sensational 16-game winning streak.

The Giants increased their unbeaten streak yesterday as they took a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 in 12 innings and 6-3. The Dodgers split a twi-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh, winning the opener, 5-0, but losing the second game, 5-2.

The contenders of the tight American League scramble were idle. They resume action today with the Cleveland Indians, out in front by a game, entertaining the Philadelphia Athletics while the runner-up New York Yankees are at St. Louis. The third-place Boston Red Sox play at Detroit and the fourth place Chicago White Sox are at home against Washington.

17 For Jansen

The Athletics shaded the Detroit Tigers, 1-0 in the only American League game yesterday. In other National League games, the Boston Braves captured a twi-night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3 and 4-2, and the Philadelphia Phils swept a twi-night program from Cincinnati, 2-0 and 3-0.

Larry Jansen posted his 17th victory for the torrid Giants in the opener against Chicago. The Cubs pushed home a run in the top of the 12th but the Giants came right back with two in their half to pull it out. Whitey Lockman singled with the basis loaded to send home the tying run and pinch-hitter Bill Rigney knocked in the winning counter with a fly ball.

The Giants encountered easier sailing in the second game, running up a 6-1 lead in seven innings. Home runs by Ed Stanky and Monte Irvin eased rookie Al Corwin to his fifth straight victory without a loss. Home runs by Hank Sauer and Bob Ramazzotti accounted for all of Chicago's runs.

New York's amazing winning spell is the longest in the majors this year. The previous high was 14 compiled by the White Sox in May. It also is the best Giant streak since the 1936 club won 15 straight and the longest in the National since the Cubs put 21 together in 1935.

Branca Excels

Ralph Branca turned in one of the finest performances of his career in the first game at Brooklyn. Branca had a no-hitter working until the ninth, when Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich singled with none out. The victory was Branca's 12th and second straight shutout. First inning homers by Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson sewed it up.

Clyde McCullough beat the Dodgers almost singlehanded in the nightcap as he drove in four runs on a double and a home run. Lefty Bill Werle started for Pittsburgh and received credit for the victory, but Vern Law saved the game by holding the Dodgers hitless over the last 3 2/3 innings.

Lefthander Warren Spahn, working with only two days rest, limited the Cards to six hits and fanned 11 as he turned in his 17th victory for the Braves in the opener at Boston. The 11 strikeouts boosted Spahn's total to 133, high for the majors.

Al Hunt's Grand Slam Wins for Subways, 7-4

Veteran Al Hunt turned in a story book performance Subway Grill against Beichert's Studies in the third game of the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs in the City Softball League.

One game away from elimination, the Subways rallied to upend the league champs, 7 to 4, and extend their chances for survival at least another day.

All that Hunt did was to check the Studie sluggers with five hits and pound a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning when Subways salted the game away with a five-run rally.

With the series standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Beichert's, the action swings to Block Park Wednesday evening for the fourth game.

Report Mac Rejected Commissioner's Post

Giles of Cincinnati Now Leading Choice

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was promised the job of baseball commissioner by unanimous vote but turned it down flat, it was reported today.

The general was not immediately available for comment on the report but his aide, Maj.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, declining to confirm or deny it, said:

"As far as I know, the general has never given serious thought to the baseball commissionership."

MacArthur was expected to make a statement later today.

The Chicago Tribune, in a Washington dispatch, quoted a baseball club owner as saying a committee representing the owners had spent three hours with the general last week in his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel here.

The unidentified owner, according to the newspaper, said the committee had told the general he would be elected unanimously if he would accept.

Declined Job

MacArthur reportedly replied that the "offer is a great honor" but he "could not accept the job."

The famous general was known to be one of the five remaining candidates for the vacant commissioner's post after a screening session of the 16 major league club owners here last week.

The others, it was learned by the Associated Press, are: Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio; Ford Frick, president of the National League; Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and Milt Eisenhower, president of Penn State College.

The club owners have been called into a joint session at Chicago Sept. 20 to name a successor to A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who resigned July 15 to end a stormy seven-year term in office.

Other Developments

There were other fast-breaking developments as baseball sought a new guiding hand:

1. In Washington, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, said he thought Giles has the best chance of getting the position.

2. In Cincinnati, talk was that Lausche had accumulated such strong backing that he was demanding a ten-year term as commissioner.

Giles was reported lining up behind the Ohio governor, an executive who once played semi-pro baseball. Asked about this Giles merely stated: "No comment."

Earlier, the Cincinnati president and general manager had stated he definitely was not withdrawing his own candidacy in favor of Lausche.

Griffith said he did not believe that American League opposition would prevent the election of Giles. He said he personally was for the Cincinnati executive and he knew at least five other American League owners who had voted for Giles at the screening session.

Little League Faces Possibility of Three-Way Tie

Yankees Must Win Tonight To Avoid It

Red Sox Upset Giants, 5 to 4

The Little League is confronted with the possibility of a triple tie in the second half today.

Those unpredictable Red Sox refused to quit against the favored Giants and eked out an impressive 5 to 4 victory yesterday at St. Mary's Field.

As a result of the Giants' upending, the Yankees were advanced to undisputed possession of first place, a half game ahead of the Red Sox and Giants.

Going into the final regularly scheduled game of the season this evening between the Yankees and Dodgers, the situation is this:

If the Yankees win, they will have completed a clean sweep of both halves.

If the Yankees lose, there will be a triple tie with the Yankees, Red Sox and Giants playing off the second round title.

Should the triple tie occur and any team other than the Yankees win it, that club would then play the Yankees in the final championship series. The Yankees won the first half without a defeat.

Cragan Wins Game

Willie Cragan pitched and batted the Red Sox to their stunning victory over the Giants. He permitted only six hits and crashed "3 for 3," a double and two singles to put himself near the top of the loop in batting averages.

Red Sox gained a 2-0 lead off starter Joe Reynolds in the first inning when John Woods walked Ronnie Ferraro rapped a ground rule double over the left field fence and Cragan singled to left.

Another pair of Red Sox tallies resulted in the third for a 4-0 lead when Cragan doubled to center, Dick Hornbeck was hit by a pitched ball and Tom Hallinan and Tom Cragan hit successive singles.

Giants Rally

Trailing 4-0, the Giants cut the Red Sox lead in half in the fourth via Pete Esposito's walk, Pete Blanschan's single, a double steal and Joe Hoffman's single to center.

The Giants' last ditch rally in the sixth fell one run short. Tony Amato singled to left and went to second on an error by Levy. Pete Blanschan singled Amato home, went to second on the throw-in and rode home on Joe Hoffman's rap to center.

Cragan accounted for half of the Red Sox hit total with his double and two singles. Pete Blanschan and Joe Hoffman each had two hits for the losers.

Check and Double Check

New York (AP)—Almost 14,000,000 checks are written and cashed every day in the United States, covering approximately 90 per cent of all the exchange of money. Once you cash or deposit a check to your account, machines take over, sorting, listing, endorsing or canceling in one operation. The International Business Machines Corp., builders of commercial electronic "brains", reports that one operator at a check proof machine averages 1,461 checks per hour. In one New York bank alone, an average of more than 302,000 checks are handled daily over the entire year.

Gorky-Riker Return Bout Slated Next Saturday at Auditorium

Rematch Expected to Draw Big Crowd

Ivan Gorky, the bearded one-man riot squad from Russia, and Sailor Bob Riker of the U. S. Navy at Norfolk, Va., will meet in a return grudge match, headlining Saturday night's professional wrestling card at the municipal auditorium.

Promoter Bill Johnston's announcement of the return go between the classic brawlers came as good news to mat addicts.

The second meeting between Gorky, one of the most popular wrestlers ever to show here, and Riker is expected to equal the fierce clash of two weeks ago. The referee stopped the bout because of a cut over Sailor Bob's left eye.

The windup of that bout was one of the most sensational in local mat history, with the crowd storming around ringside threatening mayhem on Gorky for the manner in which he manhandled the sailor.

Babich on Card

George Babich, former Fordham football and baseball star, who now resides at Rhinecliff, meets Lord Spears of Liverpool, England, in the 30-minute semi-final. Spears was impressive and eye catching in his local debut.

Abe Coleman, the "Human Fire Plug," squares off against Mickey Cortelano, the fast-rising Italian star in a 30-minute special.

Mike Kilonis, Greek Playboy, and Ed Faieta, Italian speedster of Steubenville, Ohio, are carded in the 30-minute opener.

THE SCOREBOARD

By RALPH RODDEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no evidence of panic in Brooklyn today, but the citizens of Flatbush are growing uneasy over the exploits of Leo Durocher's surging New York Giants.

The hot shots from the banks of Harlem River have soared to within five games of the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers on the wings of a sensational 16-game winning streak.

The Giants increased their unbeaten streak yesterday as they took a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 in 12 innings and 6-3. The Dodgers split a twi-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh, winning the opener, 5-0, but losing the second game, 5-2.

The contenders of the tight American League scramble were idle. They resume action today with the Cleveland Indians, out in front by a game, entertaining the Philadelphia Athletics while the runner-up New York Yankees are at St. Louis. The third-place Boston Red Sox play at Detroit and the fourth place Chicago White Sox are at home against Washington.

17 For Jansen

The Athletics shaded the Detroit Tigers, 1-0 in the only American League game yesterday. In other National League games, the Boston Braves captured a twi-night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3 and 4-2, and the Philadelphia Phils swept a twi-night program from Cincinnati, 2-0 and 3-0.

Larry Jansen posted his 17th victory for the torrid Giants in the opener against Chicago. The Cubs pushed home a run in the top of the 12th but the Giants came right back with two in their half to pull it out. Whitey Lockman singled with the basis loaded to send home the tying run and pinch-hitter Bill Rigney knocked in the winning counter with a fly ball.

The Giants encountered easier sailing in the second game, running up a 6-1 lead in seven innings. Home runs by Ed Stanky and Monte Irvin eased rookie Al Corwin to his fifth straight victory without a loss. Home runs by Hank Sauer and Bob Ramazzotti accounted for all of Chicago's runs.

New York's amazing winning spell is the longest in the majors this year. The previous high was 14 compiled by the White Sox in May. It also is the best Giant streak since the 1936 club won 15 straight and the longest in the National since the Cubs put 21 together in 1935.

Branca Excels

Ralph Branca turned in one of the finest performances of his career in the first game at Brooklyn. Branca had a no-hitter working until the ninth, when Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich singled with none out. The victory was Branca's 12th and second straight shutout. First inning homers by Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson sewed it up.

Clyde McCullough beat the Dodgers almost singlehanded in the nightcap as he drove in four runs on a double and a home run. Lefty Bill Werle started for Pittsburgh and received credit for the victory, but Vern Law saved the game by holding the Dodgers hitless over the last 3 2/3 innings.

Lefthander Warren Spahn, working with only two days rest, limited the Cards to six hits and fanned 11 as he turned in his 17th victory for the Braves in the opener at Boston. The 11 strikeouts boosted Spahn's total to 133 high for the majors.

Al Hunt's Grand Slam Wins for Subways, 7-4

Veteran Al Hunt turned in a story book performance Subway Grill against Beichert's Studies in the third game of the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs in the City Softball League.

One game away from elimination, the Subways rallied to upend the league champs, 7 to 4, and extend their chances for survival at least another day.

All that Hunt did was to check the Studie sluggers with five hits and pound a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning when Subways salted the game away with a five-run rally.

With the series standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Beichert's, the action swings to Block Park Wednesday evening for the fourth game.

Giles of Cincinnati Now Leading Choice

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was promised the job of baseball commissioner by unanimous vote but turned it down flat, it was reported today.

The general was not immediately available for comment on the report but his aide, Maj.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, declining to confirm or deny it, said:

"As far as I know, the general has never given serious thought to the baseball commissionership."

MacArthur was expected to make a statement later today.

The Chicago Tribune, in a Washington dispatch, quoted a baseball club owner as saying a committee representing the owners had spent three hours with the general last week in his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel here.

The unidentified owner, according to the newspaper, said the committee had told the general he would be elected unanimously if he would accept.

Declined Job

MacArthur reportedly replied that the "offer is a great honor" but he "could not accept the job."

The famous general was known to be one of the five remaining candidates for the vacant commissioner's post after a screening session of the 16 major league club owners here last week.

The others, it was learned by the Associated Press, are: Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio; Ford Frick, president of the National League; Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and Milt Eisenhower, president of Penn State College.

The club owners have been called into a joint session at Chicago Sept. 20 to name a successor to A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who resigned July 15 to end a stormy seven-year term in office.

Other Developments

There were other fast-breaking developments as baseball sought a new guiding hand:

1. In Washington, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, said he thought Giles has the best chance of getting the position.

2. In Cincinnati, talk was that Lausche had accumulated such strong backing that he was demanding a ten-year term as commissioner.

Giles was reported lining up behind the Ohio governor, an executive who once played semi-pro baseball. Asked about this Giles merely stated: "No comment."

Earlier, the Cincinnati president and general manager had stated he definitely was not withdrawing his own candidacy in favor of Lausche.

Griffith said he did not believe that American League opposition would prevent the election of Giles. He said he personally was for the Cincinnati executive and he knew at least five other American League owners who had voted for Giles at the screening session.

A BACKGROUND of sat

Yonkers Pay Plan

Galloway, Jr., of Yonkers rendered an opinion in which he concluded that the above provisions of the proposed Yonkers local law complied with the new amendment to the City Home Rule Law requiring a plan to raise the moneys. In his opinion he wrote:

"Without intending to pass upon the reasonableness or feasibility of the plan, or upon the approximate accuracy of the estimated aggregate cost or the proposed salary and wage increases and the net revenue yields as estimated in the proposed local law, the plan proposed to meet the estimated expenditures therein provided would appear to fulfill the above quoted amendment to Section 19A of the City Home Rule Law. Said amendment is silent as to the character of the required plan to meet the proposed expenditures. It is my opinion that the legislature intended only that a plan be submitted as a part of the proposed local law, and that the reasonableness, feasibility and indeed desirability of such plan were questions which are left to the judgment of the electors in referendum and of the Common Council."

Kingston Lacks Plan

Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, when questioned by a Freeman reporter, pointed out that under the proposed local law in Yonkers the money is to be raised by a tax on real estate and then by the use of other specified taxes if sufficient moneys cannot be raised by a tax on real estate. He says that this specific method is far different from the proposed local law in Kingston which merely states that the Common Council shall secure the necessary moneys through those sources and through the manner by which the Common Council is authorized to raise money.

Corporation Counsel Connelly is of the opinion that if a provision that the Common Council shall raise money any way it can constitutes a plan, the recent amendment to the statute requiring a plan is meaningless. The issue, he said, is one that can only be determined by the courts.

Alonzo Smith Home

Police were notified at 8:10 p. m., yesterday that Alonzo Smith, 30, son of Mrs. Bessie Smith, of 9 Martin's Lane, who was reported missing on Aug. 24, had arrived at his home. A report Saturday said he had left the University of Iowa on August 8 and was due home Aug. 12, but had not been heard from since that date.

UN Says Red Plane officers who investigated the original evidence "either lied or was incompetent" in reporting there had been no bombing.

The broadcast quoted Alan Winnington, a London Daily Worker correspondent who has been covering the Kaesong conferences.

Urging a second investigation to include the reported new evidence, the broadcast said:

The release from Ridgway's headquarters reviewed the whole array of charges and countercharges of neutrality violations. It said:

"From the beginning of the conference (July 10) the Communists repeatedly violated the letter and the spirit of our agreements concerning the neutrality of the conference area."

After Ridgway called them on these violations, the release continued, the Reds started making charges of their own. It added:

"Their ensuing charges can only be interpreted as an effort by them to regain the face which they lost in the eyes of their followers.

Battle Rages

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 28 (AP)—An all-day battle raged today in the rain-soaked hills north of Yanggu on the east Korean front.

The rest of the front, which had flared with increasingly heavy clashes Monday, quieted under low clouds that often obscured entire ridgelines.

Rain and mist dampened the entire battle lines. Ground action was limited largely to sporadic artillery barrages and scattered fights between patrols. Most planes were grounded. Only 42 sorties were flown by the Fifth Air Force up to 6 p. m. (3 a. m. EST).

Ten B-29 superforts from Okinawa bombed supply depots at Chinnampo by radar in the heaviest reported raid, more than 100 tons.

Reds took advantage of the weather and slipped small groups of infantrymen into position north of Yanggu for assaults on allied ridge positions. The Communist troops attacked at 9 a. m. (6 p. m. Monday EST). By noon two reinforced companies were trying to crack United Nations positions.

The attack was in the same general area where a Red attack Monday forced UN troops back nearly two miles. The fight lasted until nightfall.

Yonkers Pay Plan

Galloway, Jr., of Yonkers rendered an opinion in which he concluded that the above provisions of the proposed Yonkers local law complied with the new amendment to the City Home Rule Law requiring a plan to raise the moneys. In his opinion he wrote:

"Without intending to pass upon the reasonableness or feasibility of the plan, or upon the approximate accuracy of the estimated aggregate cost or the proposed salary and wage increases and the net revenue yields as estimated in the proposed local law, the plan proposed to meet the estimated expenditures therein provided would appear to fulfill the above quoted amendment to Section 19A of the City Home Rule Law. Said amendment is silent as to the character of the required plan to meet the proposed expenditures. It is my opinion that the legislature intended only that a plan be submitted as a part of the proposed local law, and that the reasonableness, feasibility and indeed desirability of such plan were questions which are left to the judgment of the electors in referendum and of the Common Council."

Kingston Lacks Plan

Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, when questioned by a Freeman reporter, pointed out that under the proposed local law in Yonkers the money is to be raised by a tax on real estate and then by the use of other specified taxes if sufficient moneys cannot be raised by a tax on real estate. He says that this specific method is far different from the proposed local law in Kingston which merely states that the Common Council shall secure the necessary moneys through those sources and through the manner by which the Common Council is authorized to raise money.

Corporation Counsel Connelly is of the opinion that if a provision that the Common Council shall raise money any way it can constitutes a plan, the recent amendment to the statute requiring a plan is meaningless. The issue, he said, is one that can only be determined by the courts.

Alonzo Smith Home

Police were notified at 8:10 p. m., yesterday that Alonzo Smith, 30, son of Mrs. Bessie Smith, of 9 Martin's Lane, who was reported missing on Aug. 24, had arrived at his home. A report Saturday said he had left the University of Iowa on August 8 and was due home Aug. 12, but had not been heard from since that date.

GOBS' BLOOD FOR KOREA—Giving their blood, as well as their service, are these sailors of the carrier USS Philippine Sea. Lined up on the carrier's flight deck in San Francisco are part of the 1100 shipmates who pledged their blood, making them the nation's largest single group of donors. The Red Cross "Bloodmobile" was hoisted aboard the carrier to take the blood, slated for Korea.

May Ratify . . .

Signature First Step

But signature is only a first step. The treaty would become effective only after it was ratified by Japan and by a majority of 14 designated nations which sign the pact. The 14, named in the treaty draft, were the principal belligerents in the Pacific in World War II. Ratification by the U. S., as the occupying power, is required.

In the United States, authority to ratify is reserved by the Senate, and McFarland told a reporter he sees virtually no prospect of bringing it up before adjournment now scheduled tentatively for Oct. 1. He said there has been no strong sentiment for ratification this year. He added that "weeks of debate" will be required.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter he sees no need for early ratification. But Senators Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.), who will attend the conference as observers, said in separate interviews they want ratification before adjourning. Like Sparkman, they are members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

While disagreeing on how speedily to tackle ratification, the Senators expressed agreement that all delegations must watch Russia for signs of some trick at the meeting.

Sparkman said he suspects the Chinese Communists' rejection of the latest Allied terms for renewing truce talks in the Korean war is part of a well laid plan.

The senator said he believes Communist Russia is angling for a deal in which "to trade their signature of the peace treaty for favorable truce terms in Korea" for China's Reds.

Key State Department officials meanwhile told a reporter they took no stock in reports Russia may surprise everyone and sign the proposed treaty.

If Russia does sign, one official said, it will surprise not only the U. S. but the Chinese Communists. The Red China radio and press has been denouncing the proposed pact. One Peiping broadcast said approval of the treaty would mean war.

Synthetic Rubber Up

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The price of synthetic rubber will go up one and a half cents a pound next month to help finance government plans to boost production from 760,000 to 860,000 long tons a year. The prices may climb slightly if manufacturers pass on added costs. The six per cent increase announced yesterday means general purpose synthetic rubber will be sold to industry for 26 cents a pound.

Newspapermen Indicted

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 28 (AP)—Five newspapermen who crusaded against wide open law violations are under indictment on charges of defaming three admitted gamblers and several public officials. And the Peoples Action Group which instigated a special session of the grand jury to investigate law violations, is under order to give the grand jury a list of its members. The list had been kept secret to aid in the PAG's private investigations.

Murphy Installs 40 & 8 Officers at Monday Meeting

Meyer Kaplan of Kingston was elected chef de gare of Ulster County Voiture, Local 381, 40 at 8, at the annual election held Monday evening. He succeds James G. Connelly.

Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., was elected correspondent succeeding himself to that office.

Other officers of the voiture were named by the nominating committee and elected to office without opposition at the meeting held August first. Those officers are:

Chef re Train Stanley Lawrence of Napanoch; Conducteur Charles Atkins, Port Ewen; Garde de la Porte Daniel A. Warren of New Paltz; Comm. Intendant Bob Van Gaasbeck of Kingston; Commis Voyageur John Pepper of Woodstock; Lampiste Edgar Maurer, of Kingston; Historien Gordan F. Irvine of Wallkill; Publiciste Bernhardt Kramer of Kingston; Avocat Arthur A. Davis, Jr., of Kingston; Medicine Dr. Carl F. Meekins of Highland; Aumonier Thomas Vaclevicek of Saugerties; Cheminot Thomas Bohan of Port Ewen, James G. Connelly of Kingston, Ernest S. Jansen of Marbletown, John Ludlow, Sr., of Ellenville and Walter J. Miller of Kingston.

Has Child Welfare Plans

Chef de Gare Kaplan announced that the child welfare work of the voiture would be increased during the coming year. He will name his committees later.

During his membership Chef de Gare Kaplan has held practically every office in the local voiture and has been an active and interested worker in the program of the organization. He has also held the state office of Third District Cheminot.

Installation of the new officers was by Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., grand chef passe. Grand Chef de Gare Passe Walter J. Miller, who was to have been the installing officer, was unable to attend to that duty due to illness. At the present time Miller holds the national office of Cheminot National.

the senators agreed to accept the House boost in the combined normal and surtax rate to 52 per cent from the present 47.

However, the Finance Committee did this by boosting the normal rate from 25 to 27 per cent and the surtax from 22 to 25 per cent.

The House had increased the normal rate to 30 per cent and had not changed the surtax.

Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the Finance Committee said the senators' method would help small corporations with incomes of $25,000 or less because of the smaller increase in the normal rate.

Held for Larceny

Edward Levine, 22, of 40 Havelock street, Dorchester, Mass., was arrested by state police of the Kingston station about midnight last night at the request of the Syracuse Police Department. Syracuse authorities said Levine is wanted to answer a charge of grand larceny, but further details of the charge were not communicated to local troopers. Levine was held at the Ulster county jail to be turned over to Syracuse police.

the bridge, wrote that the matter was one of state jurisdiction and was not within the Federal scope.

A letter was received from the Federated Sportsmens Clubs of Ulster County, commending the board of supervisor's action taken some time ago in opposition to rain-making activities by New York city in this area. The communication was filed.

Recently New York city water board officials stated that artificial rainmaking operations had been terminated and the eqiupment used had been given away to a college for scientific study.

No Action on Transfer

No action was taken on a request from the Ulster County Department of Health asking that the sum of $5,302.50 be transferred from the salary account to a fund for the purchase of three automobiles for use by supervising nurses in the department.

Against Accepting Road

A petition signed by a large number of residents of the town of Lloyd asking that the old Route 9-W road from Route 299 to the new alignment of 9-W be taken over from the town for county maintenance, was read. County Superintendent of Highways Loughran in a communication to the board stated that his department did not approve this transfer, it not being in the best interests of the county. The letters were filed.

A resolution was adopted renewing the contract with the state for the county to remove snow and ice from state highways in the county in the usual manner.

Some time ago the board of supervisors authorized the issuance of bonds for the construction of bridges and highways damaged by last fall's damaging floods. Two issues were authorized, one for $40,000 and one for $125,000.

By resolution last night the board consolidated these issues into one issue in the amount of $165,000, the total of the previously two approved issues.

A resolution was offered and adopted renewing the bond anticipation notes in the sum of $165,000 which were issued to provide temporary funds pending sale of the above bonds. This renewal of the notes, which become due on October 1, 1951, was in anticipation of the possibility that the bonds may not be sold prior to October 1, and that the money from the sale of the bonds would not be ready on October 1 to pay off the notes then due to the State of New York National Bank. If the bonds are sold and the money available the notes will be paid from the proceeds of the bond sale and the notes will not be renewed.

Will Build Road

Action was taken toward the improvement of the Mettacahonts road running through the hamlets of Mill Hook, Whitfield and Mettacahonts. The town proposes to improve this road by building a 16 foot macadam road for a distance of 4.9 miles. The road will be a town project with the county paying a proportionate share of the cost. The sum of $10,000 was stated as the cost for this year and the county will pay $8,000 and the town of Rochester $2,000.

Six additional towns were added to the list of towns in the county which desire to participate in the Irwin road improvement aid program and receive state aid. They are Esopus, Hurley, Plattekill, Woodstock, Shawangunk and Lloyd.

Robert Snyder, clerk, requested that supervisors get their town budgets in as soon as possible so that the tax rate of the towns may be supplied the I.B.M. which will prepare tax bills this year.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Investor Forum

by Harry C. France

STAKE IN AMERICA

Buy a stake in America: that is my earnest advice to every investor in the United States. And I don't mean debts. They are usually obligations created by red figure deficits.

Come war, come peace, there are many values in this country that simply must exist if 155,000,000 people are to enjoy a good standard of living. The values I am talking about are those that produce the good things of life.

One of my college friends is the advertising manager of one of the top pharmaceutical corporations of the land. His concern has pioneered in the field of the new drugs. In a decade a thousand new products have been put on the market to alleviate human illness. Constant advancement is the order of the day with his firm.

One of my former Columbia Universtiy students started a new corporation in 1936 with about $300,000. Since that time, the labor saving devices his company has turned out and merchandized have lifted a million loads yearly from the backs of American housewives. And, in doing this, the net worth of his corporation has increased by 1,000%. His common stock went from 25 cents a share to 25 dollars a share.

One of my acquaintances is a former oil geophysicist. He is now president of a leading oil company. He is the courageous soul who took half a million dollars and started exploratory work in one of the most unpromising sections of America—North Dakota. But this year a new oil field that has tremendous potentialities has been brought in and his stock has doubled in price in a year.

Another of my former Columbia University students, who was reared on a southern Idaho fruit farm, is now the $125,000 a year president of the world's second largest insurance company. Thirty-five years ago, he was working as a laborer in Butte, Montana for a big copper company at $3.00 a day. If any of my readers were to interview him in his big office, he would say: "Take out $5,000, $10,000, $25,000, $50,000 of life insurance with my company." And he would be speaking as a sound economist, not as a sales executive.

One of my friends is a sales executive for an automobile firm, that, during 1950, sold $7,500,000,000 worth of merchandise. Now that is 7,500 million dollars worth of business. Isn't that tremendous? It is. Do you think this company will survive the atom bomb, the Communist conspiracy and profligate spending? The answer is, yes.

I don't know whether stock prices will advance 100 points from here or whether they will go down 100. I do know that our dollar is not improving from day to day. And bonds represent fixed dollars.

It is logical to expect equity prices to rise with a deteriorating dollar unless high wages and costs and excessive taxation wipe out profits.

So, regardless of the immediate direction of the national economy, it is far better for investors to buy a stake in America than a debt in it. Stock prices will fluctuate, as usual. But, in the long run the values in the country that turn out washing machines and autos and healthgiving medicines—to refer to previous paragraphs—are the ones to buy and to hold.

And mixed in with the material values that form the basic wealth of America—the oils, the coppers and the steels—they become the foundation of the fortunes of investors who are worth a thousand or a million dollars.

Yes, buy a stake in America.

dinner, predicted that by 1953 the country's economy will be able to meet the needs of both civilian and military markets.

Johnston appealed for "self-discipline and self-restraint" until then. He said inflation has cost the U. S. $42,000,000,000 since the Korea war started.

While the dinner was going on, the VFW selected its new beauty queen elsewhere. She is Dorothy Swisher, a green-eyed, 18-year-old blonde from Southern Pines, N. C., with ambitions of becoming a doctor.

In another competition, the Black Knights of Post 1639, Lock Haven, Pa., won the senior corps color guards contest.

The march was led by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, a member of the Cooties. Costumes varied from bright uniforms to red flannel diapers held together with oversized pins.

Dems Get Jump

Salem, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP)—Democrats beat Republicans in Oregon in putting up Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as a candidate for president. Yesterday a group of Democrats filed petitions to put Eisenhower on the state's presidential primary ballot next May. There were 1,150 signatures although Oregon's law requires only 1,000. Permission of the candidate is not necessary. Republicans said they will file their Eisenhower petitions later.

May Ratify . . .

Signature First Step

But signature is only a first step. The treaty would become effective only after it was ratified by Japan and by a majority of 14 designated nations which sign the pact. The 14, named in the treaty draft, were the principal belligerents in the Pacific in World War II. Ratification by the U. S., as the occupying power, is required.

In the United States, authority to ratify is reserved by the Senate, and McFarland told a reporter he sees virtually no prospect of bringing it up before adjournment now scheduled tentatively for Oct. 1. He said there has been no strong sentiment for ratification this year. He added that "weeks of debate" will be required.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter he sees no need for early ratification. But Senators Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.), who will attend the conference as observers, said in separate interviews they want ratification before adjourning. Like Sparkman, they are members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

While disagreeing on how speedily to tackle ratification, the Senators expressed agreement that all delegations must watch Russia for signs of some trick at the meeting.

Sparkman said he suspects the Chinese Communists' rejection of the latest Allied terms for renewing truce talks in the Korean war is part of a well laid plan.

The senator said he believes Communist Russia is angling for a deal in which "to trade their signature of the peace treaty for favorable truce terms in Korea" for China's Reds.

Key State Department officials meanwhile told a reporter they took no stock in reports Russia may surprise everyone and sign the proposed treaty.

If Russia does sign, one official said, it will surprise not only the U. S. but the Chinese Communists. The Red China radio and press has been denouncing the proposed pact. One Peiping broadcast said approval of the treaty would mean war.

Synthetic Rubber Up

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The price of synthetic rubber will go up one and a half cents a pound next month to help finance government plans to boost production from 760,000 to 860,000 long tons a year. The prices may climb slightly if manufacturers pass on added costs. The six per cent increase announced yesterday means general purpose synthetic rubber will be sold to industry for 26 cents a pound.

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 28 (AP)—Five newspapermen who crusaded against wide open law violations are under indictment on charges of defaming three admitted gamblers and several public officials. And the Peoples Action Group which instigated a special session of the grand jury to investigate law violations, is under order to give the grand jury a list of its members. The list had been kept secret to aid in the PAG's private investigations.

Murphy Installs 40 & 8 Officers at Monday Meeting

Meyer Kaplan of Kingston was elected chef de gare of Ulster County Voiture, Local 381, 40 at 8, at the annual election held Monday evening. He succeds James G. Connelly.

Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., was elected correspondent succeeding himself to that office.

Other officers of the voiture were named by the nominating committee and elected to office without opposition at the meeting held August first. Those officers are:

dinner, predicted that by 1953 the country's economy will be able to meet the needs of both civilian and military markets.

Johnston appealed for "self-discipline and self-restraint" until then. He said inflation has cost the U. S. $42,000,000,000 since the Korea war started.

While the dinner was going on, the VFW selected its new beauty queen elsewhere. She is Dorothy Swisher, a green-eyed, 18-year-old blonde from Southern Pines, N. C., with ambitions of becoming a doctor.

In another competition, the Black Knights of Post 1639, Lock Haven, Pa., won the senior corps color guards contest.

Meanwhile, the Military Order of Cooties—the VFW's fun-making organization—staged a night-time parade before an estimated 100,000 spectators on Manhattan's Eighth avenue.

The march was led by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, a member of the Cooties. Costumes varied from bright uniforms to red flannel diapers held together with oversized pins.

Dems Get Jump

Salem, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP)—Democrats beat Republicans in Oregon in putting up Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as a candidate for president. Yesterday a group of Democrats filed petitions to put Eisenhower on the state's presidential primary ballot next May. There were 1,150 signatures although Oregon's law requires only 1,000. Permission of the candidate is not necessary. Republicans said they will file their Eisenhower petitions later.
